Monroe Doctrine Extension

Is Proposed by Two GOP Senators As Alternative to Atlantic Treaty

WASHINGTON, July 14 —(AP)—Republican Senators Taft of Ohio and Flanders of Vermont proposed today extending the Monroe Doctrine to western Europe as an alternative to the North Atlantic treaty.

Their idea would be to leave the United States as the sole judge of what steps to take in the event of an aggressive move against any western European nation.

A resolution calling upon President Truman to extend the Monroe Doctrine to western Europe was offered by Flanders for himself and Taft during Senate debate on the 12-nation North Atlantic pact.

"This is a unilateral action we can control," Flanders told reporters.

Both Taft and Flanders have announced their opposition to the Atlantic Pact. It would bind each of the 12 signers to consider an attack against any one of them as an attack on all.

Designed As Protection

The Monroe Doctrine, as proclaimed by President Monroe in 1823, was designed to protect western hemisphere nations from European designs.

Flanders said he sees danger in this country sending "vast masses of arms" to western Europe.

"There is danger some of the governments might become Communist-controlled," he said.

Flanders called extension of the Monroe Doctrine to western Europe a preferable alternative to the North Atlantic pact and arms for Europe.

The Taft-Flanders resolution was introduced after Democratic leaders tried to get an agreement for a Senate vote Saturday on the pact. Senator Watkins (R-Utah) blocked it. He said he would not agree to a vote before Wednesday.

To Push For Vote

Democratic Leader Lucas of Illinois then announced he will keep the Senate in session tomorrow night and probably Saturday to push toward a vote early next week.

Lucas had asked that the Senate agree unanimously to a vote Saturday at 5 p.m.

But Watkins declared the vote on such an important issue should go over until next week.

Then Lucas tried to get consent to a vote either Monday or Tuesday.

"If you change it to Wednesday," Watkins said, "then I'll agree."

Lucas did not take him up on that. One senator's objection can block an agreement for a vote.

Gurney For Pact

However, the Senate might get to vote before Wednesday. If everybody else got to the point where they were ready to vote, Watkins could block a vote only by holding the floor and talking.

Senator Gurney (R-SD) came out with a statement endorsing the pact.

"This pact gives promise of being effective in preserving peace because it is solidly anchored in a realistic evaluation of the facts of life in the world today," Gurney said.

At present, the chief point of argument about the pact is over whether it carries a moral or legal obligation for this country to supply arms to Europe.

Shipment Withheld

WASHINGTON, July 14.—(AP)—Russia withheld manganese and chrome shipments to the U. S. in May for the second consecutive month, the census bureau reported today.

Both metals, essential in turning out high grade steel, are considered so vital by the government that it buys them for stockpiling against a war emergency.

Thought for Today

It is a bitter thought to an avaricious spirit that by and by all these accumulations must be left behind. We can only carry away from this world the flavor of our good or evil deeds.—Beecher.

Helped Woman, Then is Killed

ST. LOUIS, July 14.—(AP)—Herman Henrichs, 29, formerly of Risco, Mo., defended a woman against her husband in a bar-room row last night and was stabbed to death.

Police were looking for the husband today. His wife fled with him.

Harry Oliver, a porter in the tavern, told it this way:

The couple had been drinking in a booth, and Henrich at the bar. The husband said something insulting to his wife and grobbed her arm roughly. Henrichs turned and said "You can't talk to anyone that way," missed with a beer bottle and the fight was on.

Henrichs was a student at a school of mechanical trades.

Partly-Clad Body Found

FORT SMITH, Ark., July 14.—(AP)—The partly-clad body of a 15-year-old farmer's daughter was found this morning at Vine Prairie in Crawford county.

Sheriff Lalen C. Moore identified the girl as Thelma Ruth Bohan. He said her body was bruised and apparently had been dragged about 25 feet and left beside U. S. Highway 64 near the school at Bine Prairie. It is between Mulberry and Alma.

Moore said two boys who were seen with the girl last night had been detained for questioning. The girl lived about two and one-half miles from Vine Prairie.

Mrs. Daisy Ocker, coroner, has impaneled a jury to conduct an inquest.

Church-State Conflict Lines Tighten

Pope Issues New Decree of Excommunication

By the Associated Press

The lines tightened today in the bitter church-state conflict in eastern Europe. Pope Pius XII issued a new decree of excommunication against all Roman Catholics who embrace Communism.

The official Communist press in Czechoslovakia ignored it but Prague reports indicated the Communists would use the Vatican order for propaganda purposes. The government is expected to take the line that the Vatican is trying to cut off the people from their government.

The minister of education in Czechoslovakia has already issued an ordinance declaring illegal excommunications and other penalties imposed by the Catholic hierarchy "for political and not religious reasons."

The government reported the priests supporting the government sponsored Catholic action were staging sit-down strikes and refusing to surrender their parishes.

Bitter in Poland

The war between church and state became hotter in Catholic Poland too. The official Polish press blamed the Roman Catholic hierarchy for encouraging the faithful to crowd into the eastern Polish city of Lublin to witness a "weeping virgin" portrait. The authorities said one woman was killed and 19 other persons were injured in the stampede.

Government officials said persons spreading rumors about the reported miracle would be prosecuted. The Communist-led Polish government, like its counterparts in eastern Europe, is conducting a bitter fight against church authority.

More London dock workers left their jobs today despite declarations from prime minister Clement Atlee that the 18-day old strike is sapping the strength and life of the nation. The government, under emergency regulations approved by parliament, poured 4,500 soldiers and sailors into the docking area to unload ships. Nearly 14,000 men are now idle. The government says the strike is Communist inspired.

The Russians eased their road traffic regulations in Germany. For a while it looked as if the Russians were reimposing a blockade of Berlin-bound trucks. But an American 60-truck convoy passed a checkpoint in a minute today. Now the green light is showing and normal traffic is flowing.

But while Russian relations seemed smoothed in the west, Washington observers said there are growing signs of increased friction with Russia in Asia. These observers said Moscow appears to be transferring its cold war tactics from Germany to Japan. They see trouble ahead for Allied supreme commander Gen. Douglas MacArthur.

Holiday in Paris Today

PARIS, July 14.—(AP)—Paris was on holiday today, celebrating the 160th anniversary of the fall of the bastile and sleeping off the effects on an all-night street-dancing party.

The city government sponsored street dances in seven different parts of the city last night with complete orchestras. In almost every neighborhood, however, a one, two or three-piece band could be found playing for revelers.

Today the traditional military parade will move up the Champs Elysee to the Arc De Triomphe. The opera and other state-subsidized theaters will give free matinees. Tonight all fountains will be playing despite a shortage of water and the city's famous monuments will be lighted.

Monkey Invades Laundry

SAN DIEGO, Cal., July 14.—(AP)—A runaway monkey invaded a self-help laundry here.

Seventeen women customers scattered with shrill screams.

The monkey jumped into the open door of one of the electric washers, which automatically started to work on him.

Willie—that's the monkey—was rescued without damage by his owner, Richard V. Heitman, and a humane society man who had been on his trail.

Streamliner With The New 'Low Look'

CHICAGO, July 14 —(AP)— A streamliner with a "low look," the newest thing in the railroad industry, will be on display at the Chicago Railroad fair Saturday.

Visitors will have a chance to inspect the "Talgo," the American Car and Foundry company's train that literally hugs the rails.

The Talgo has a locomotive two feet longer than a standard diesel-electric. Its coaches are four feet lower than present day equipment. Interior space, say company officials, suffers no loss in the transformation.

You don't need a porter's helping hand to step down off the Talgo. It's a single, easy step. Floors of the Talgo are only 18 inches above the head of the rail as compared with 51 inches for standard railroad cars.

Each Talgo coach is supported by two wheels at the rear, the forward end being carried by the unit ahead. All equipment for air conditioning and brakes, which is ordinarily slung under the car, is carried in a separate equipment unit where it is more easily accessible.

The low gravity design and all-aluminum construction result in an overall weight reduction of 75 per cent.

The Talgo is the first of three such trains being built by the A.C.F. at its Wilmington, Del., plant.

Airlines Seek Feeder Lines

KANSAS CITY, July 14.—(AP)—Mid-Continent Airlines, Inc., of Kansas City, yesterday filed application with the civil aeronautics board in Washington for extensive feeder air routes in nine midwestern states.

J. W. Miller, president of the air carrier, said the application was made in event the CAB disapproves his company's proposal to acquire the 4,000 route mile structure of Parks Air Lines, Inc., East St. Louis, Ill., which now is awaiting action of the board.

Among the feeder routes which Mid-Continent seeks to operate under the contingent application includes:

Kansas City to Tulsa via the intermediate points of Topeka, Emporia, Chanute and Coffeyville, Kas. ,and Bartlesville, Okla.

St. Louis, Mo., and East St. Louis, Ill., to Davenport, Ia., Moline, Ill., via Hannibal, Mo.; Quincy, Ill., Keokuk-Fort Madison, Burlington and Muscatine, Ill.

House Passes Telephone Bill

WASHINGTON, July 14.—(AP)—Legislation designed to make modern telephone service available to more than half the nation's farm homes went to the senate today with the overwhelming backing of the house.

It was passed by the house yesterday by a vote of 282 to 109. Most of the opposition came from city members resentful over lack of support from farm state congressmen for the administration's housing bill.

The leislation would allow the rural electrification administration to operate in the telephone field in the same manner that it now operates in the field of rural electricity, subject to approval by state regulatory bodies.

The REA could make loans to telephone companies, or to cooperatives formed to provide telephone service, with existin companies having priority for the first six months.

The loans would bear two per cent interest and could be paid off over a period as long as 35 years.

Attempts to raise the interest rates and to guarantee that no loans are made in areas already served by telephone companies were defeated.

Many People In Hawaii Feel Long Tieup

Waterfront Strike Has Cut Into Life Of Average Islander

By Leif Erickson

HONOLULU, July 14—(AP)—The 75-day waterfront strike has cut into the everyday life of the average islander out here. But not as much as you'd think.

There are cases like the paper salesman — with no paper to sell. He's driving a truck. And eating poi, instead of potatoes.

Or there's Frank May. He's a white collar man at Lewers and Cooke, Hawaii's biggest building materials firm which has made two 10 percent pay cuts. He's told his wife she has to give up the woman who ironed half a day each week. The yard man who worked over the lawn twice a month has to go, too.

Hardly Feel The Pinch

But many people hardly feel the pinch from the long tieup. There's a big segment of federal civil service employes and workers paid by mainland firms. And, of course, the army, navy and air force people. Their pay keeps coming in.

Food relief cargoes provide the staples — meat, potatoes, milk, eggs, butter — and nearly any trimming you can think of. If you're lucky enough not to have had a couple of pay cuts or lost your job, you can eat and live in good style.

Just the same, the people are settling down for a long, hard pull. The striking CIO stevedores and the seven struck stevedoring firms are as far apart now as they were on May 1 when it all started. The longshoremen want 32 cents an hour more than the $1.40 they were getting. The employers withdrew an offer of 12 cents.

The paper salesman said a 15 per cent pay cut gave him a taste for poi. "Poi's cheaper than potatoes — and more vitamins," he said.

Poi is a native Hawaiian dish. It's made from Taro root flour and is supposed to be more nutritious than anything. But the first taste is like library paste.

Low Flying Wrecked Plane

LOS ANGELES, July 14.—(AP)—Civil aeronautics board officials say that low flying and not a fight caused the crash and explosion of a non-scheduled airliner which cost 35 lives and injuries to 14.

Stewardess Charlotte Grenander, 23, told authorities yesterday that the scrap aboard the Standard Airlines' twin-engine C-46 Commando was only a one-punch affair. She said it occurred an hour before the crash in the rugged Santa Susana mountains 30 miles north of downtown Los Angeles Tuesday.

She named Frank Conway, Albany, N. Y., who was killed, as the man who struck his seatmate. Miss Grenander added that there was no trouble after the pilot, Capt. Roy G. White, came back and talked to Conway.

James N. Peyton, regional cab chief, said the aircraft was on course for an instrument approach landing at Lockhead air terminal, Burbank, but was 2000 feet too low. He said a smashed altimeter registered 1940 feet.

Peyton added that low fog may have obscured the pilot's vision, although fog was not believed to have beeen abnormally heavy.

Insane Killer Spends Night Atop a Tower

Lays Down New Regulation For Voluntary Descent

LIMA, O., July 14—(AP)—Tower-sitting Raymond Jutila, the insane killer who tried to escape and ended 130 feet in the air atop a water tower, showed signs at noon today of coming down to earth.

Cold and sleepy after a night on the tower at Lima state hospital, Jutila laid down a new regulation for his voluntary descent:

"Have a uniformed Western Union messenger deliver me a telegram from Johnson (Police Chief William Johnson of Warren, O.) and I'll come down," the haggard lifer shouted.

Quickly authorities planned a telegram and sent for a uniformed messenger.

They said they thought Jutila meant it this time. The Warren, O., slayer complained of a headache.

Complained of Thirst

He complained, too, of thirst—although he clung within inches of the criminal insane hospital's water supply.

Several times since he scampered up the tower yesterday at 9:30 a. m. Jutila has promised to come down if certain conditions were met. Then, he has changed his mind.

If the telegram gag failed to work, said officials, they will return to their patient game of waiting.

"We'll wait him out," Dr. R. E. Bushong, hospital superintendent said.

The 35-year-old demented slayer shouted answers to the questions of guards. Asked how he felt after a night on his perch, Jutila admitted "It was a little cold."

"Cold and Hungry"

Four times during the night Jutila ventured down to the lowest crossbeam of the tower—about 30 feet above the ground. He talked briefly with the guards and newsmen and said he was "cold and hungry."

Each time, however, he quickly climbed back to the top.

Promises of sizzling steaks and sweet-laden desserts failed to bring Jutila below the 30-foot level.

"I'll stay up here two weeks if I have to," he defiantly replied to the pleading of guards.

Jutila has been demanding that officials furnish "protection for my family from some released convicts." He did not identify the convicts.

The slayer also wanted guards to call Police Chief William Johnson of Warren, O. Jutila was sentenced from Warren Dec. 24, 1935, for the rape-slaying of Mrs. Marie Tobin, 25.

Jutila refused to say why he wanted to talk to Johnson.

Name Memorial After Hawes

ST. LOUIS, July 14.—(AP)—As a memorial to the late U. S. Senator Harry B. Hawes, a tract of land on his beloved current river in Southeast Missouri will be named for him.

He died two years ago. As he requested, his ashes were strewn over the river. He was a strong advocate of fish and game conservation.

A group of his friends started the move for a memorial tract, and Gale Johnson, president of the Mercantile-Commerce Bank and Trust Co., said the U. S. Forestry Service approved the project. The location has not yet been specified.

Kem to Oppose Atlantic Pact

WASHINGTON, July 14.—(AP)—Senator Kem (R-Mo) said today he expects to take the senate floor Friday to oppose the Atlantic Pact.

He believes, he said, that the pact by-passes the United Nations and returns "to the old method of military alliances and power politics."

He told a reporter he believes the pact is a commitment of this and future generations to fight if necessary to maintain boundaries of nations where the people may not be willing to defend themselves.

Also, he added, the arms program "which goes with the treaty" may cost Americans large sums for military equipment.

In event of war, some of this equipment might be used against this country, he declared.

Children Wave Toy Guns; But Really do Rob

ELMIRA, N. Y., July 14.—(AP)—Clerks in a department store office just laughed when two 12-year-old boys and an 11-year old girl waved toy pictols at them and announced a stickup.

But $465.95 the children had hidden in a field wasn't play money. Police quoted the kids as saying they took most of it from an open safe after the chuckling clerks had resumed typing and filing.

The clerks hadn't missed the money.

Police said the youngsters, picked up for questioning yesterday about another theft, led them to the field, where the money was found in three wallets.

Authorities held the trio as juvenile delinquents.

Highlights Of Kiwanis Convention

Highlights of the Kiwanis International convention were reported to the Sedalia Kiwanis club by Delegate T. H. Yount and Mrs. Yount who attended the sessions in Atlantic City.

Mrs. Yount told of the activities of Kiwaniqueens and sidelights of the convention proper, also their trip to Williamsburg, Va. Mr. Yount reviewed the talks of prominent speakers, election of officers and other important details and progress of the International organization. The next International convention will be held in Miami, Florida, May 1950.

R. E. Mullen was program chairman.

Mr. Yount called attention to the all Kiwanis golf tournament to be held in Moberly next Thursday.

Detour Traffic Next Monday

Effective Monday, East highway 50, between Emmett avenue and Marshall avenue will be barricaded for about a week, during the construction of a sewer line crossing and adjacent to the highway about 400 feet, near Merriam avenue.

Highway traffic will be detoured at Emmett avenue on East Broadway through Marshall avenue. The detour was requested for the public's protection, during the construction work when dynamite blasing will occur.

The authorization to barricade the highway was given by H. M. Brush, division engineer of the State Highway Department. The work was delayed until Monday, so the detour would not have to be made during the heavy week-end traffic.

Break Ground For Dormitory

MARSHALL, Mo., July 14.—(AP)—Ground breaking ceremonies for a new $400,000 girls' dormitory at Missouri Valley college will be held next Monday morning.

The building, which will be in the shape of a capital letter I, will be located on the west side of the campus. The center section and the south wing will be completed first and will accommodate 120 women students.

Dr. H. Roe Bartle, Kansas City, president of the college, will preside at the program, which will differ from the usual pattern of such ceremonies in that all those who attend are invited to turn a spadeful of earth.

Favorable Response To Speech

White House States Letters Received Are Six to One on A Friendly Vein

By Marvin L. Arrowsmith

WASHINGTON, July 14 —(AP)— President Truman's sharp attack on "selfish interests urging drastic cuts" in federal spending collided today with both Democratic and Republican criticism in Congress.

So did his assertion that many people would like to have a depression "for political reasons."

On the other hand, Senator Pepper (D-Fla) called Mr. Truman's arguments "reasonable commonsense and full of practical justification."

The president spoke out last night in telling the nation about his new program designed to expand production and avert a more serious business slump. He went on both the radio and television.

"We shall have to be sure," the president said, "that the selfish interests do not drive us into the ditch, as they have done before."

WASHINGTON, July 14.—(AP)—The White House reported favorable response today to President Truman's speech last night opposing big cuts in government expenditure lest they increase unemployment.

Presidential Press Secretary Charles K. Ross told reporters approximately 50 telegrams have been received and that they were "plainly favorable" to the President's talk.

"They were about six to one in a friendly vein and commendatory," Ross said.

Not in Depression

As he did in the economic report he sent to Congress last Monday, Mr. Truman said: "We are not in a depression." Many people who talk of a depression, he said, would like to have one "for political reasons."

But he added that the increase in the number of people out of work "is something to worry about, and something that must be cured."

The president again lit into the Republican-ruled 80th Congress of 1947-48 for cutting income taxes. He criticized it, too, for refusing to enact the anti-inflation program he wanted then but now has abandoned because, he said, of changed conditions.

He called those policies blunders on the part of the 80th Congress, and he said "selfish interests" were to blame. Then he added:

"Now these same selfish interests are urging us to commit a third great blunder. They are now urging drastic cuts in government expenditures — cuts which would fall hardest on those expenditures which are most important to our domestic economy."

Reference to Move in Congress

That was an obvious reference to the move in Congress to trim federal spending. In the Senate, for example, more than 60 Senators — Democrats and Republicans — have signed a petition urging action on a resolution directing the president to cut appropriations for the current fiscal year by from five to ten percent.

Mr. Truman explained that he is dropping his request for a $4,000,000,000 tax increase because he does not want to "injure the economic health of the country." Indicating the alternative is red ink spending, he added:

"You cannot achieve a surplus in the government budget when you have a declining national economy. . . . If we follow the wrong budget policy at this time and slash our expenditures, we will decrease employment, cut down investment, weaken our defenses and injure our efforts for peace."

Other Contemplated Cuts

Senator McClellan (D-Ark) chief sponsor of the economy resolution, commented that there are certain contemplated expenditures for public works "that would of course stimulate our economy," but he added:

"There are other savings that can and should be made, and it is the duty of the president and the Congress jointly to bring about such economies."

Republicans let loose with hot criticism. Said House minority leader Martin of Massachusetts:

"Every day the Democratic 81st Congress is in session makes the Republican 80th Congress look better. The president may be fooling himself, but he isn't fooling many other people."

Increase Cherry Tree Yield

EAST LANSING, Mich.—(AP)—Yields from cherry trees have been increased 100 per cent in experiments at Michigan state college. It was done by mulching the trees with straw or legume hay, in tests by Dr. A. L. Kenworthy, horticulturist. The increase came on trees receiving only mulch and no fertilizer, as compared with trees which received complete fertilizer but no mulch.

Man's Sight Returns After Having Been Blind 18 Years

HOPKINTON, Mass., July 14.—(AP)—How does the world seem to a man who sees again after 18 years?

"Everything looks so rich and bright," said 63-year-old Edward R. Ray. "Faces . . . flowers —even the sky on a gray day."

His sight came back more than a week ago—"in a blinding flash."

The first thing he saw was his brother-in-law's face.

It looked wonderful—"wrinkles and all."

Then he was able to see his wife again.

She hadn't changed at all, he said. His daughter, now grown up and married, was "even better-looking than they told me."

But the greatest surprise were his two grandchildren, Joan, 6, and Edward, 3. Both were entirely different from the picture in his mind's eye.

"From their voices I had pictured Joan as having a heart-shaped face. It's as round as a moon. Ed is real chubby instead of wiry."

Ray continued treatments for his blindness, although seven years ago doctors told him he probably never would see again.

There is only one drawback to the miracle of returned sight. "I just can't seem to judge dictances," he said. But he expects that to clean up soon—like his vision.

Sedalia Family Loses Fourth Dog by Poisoning in 4 Years

A fourth dog of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Berry, 812 West Fourth street, has been poisoned. It was a valuable bird dog and it is believed the victim of a person who tossed him a piece of meat with arsenic on it. The poisoning took place shortly after 6:00 o'clock Tuesday evening.

Mr. Berry had let the dog out the back door and it was not out more than five minutes, when he found the animal practically dead.

In less than four years Mr. Berry has lost four dogs by poisoning. In the past five years no less than ten dogs have been poisoned in a similar manner.

Neighbors with children are alarmed over the situation. Within a radius of two blocks there are at least 15 children, and parents fear one may get a piece of the meat.

Chief of Police Ed. Neighbors, states his department is making an investigation of the cases. There is a law in regard to cruelty to animals and violators will be prosecuted to the extent of the law, he said, if they are found.

Chief Neighbors also said if anyone has any grievence against a dog, not to poison it, but report the matter to the police and the matter will be taken care of by the proper authorities.

Sedalian Tells of His First And Last Experience at Wake

"I'm not afraid of dead people, of course," said a man recently, "but somehow they always give me a queer feeling." Then he recalled his first experience of sitting up with a corpse when he was just a youth. It seems as though it fell to his lot to sit up with a dead man and his companions for the night were two older women. Getting as far as possible from the casket he had gone into the kitchen and was reading the paper. It was before the day when practically every house was wired for electricity and so the young man sat in the kitchen reading by a coal oil lamp. Then he dozed, a sudden little gust of wind came up, breezed through the back door and blew the light out. The boy dozed in the dark. Then suddenly he was awakened by a woman's hand on his shoulder.

"Young man," said, a voice, "Did you blow that light out."

Frightened

The youth woke up startled and frightened.

"No Mam," he said a little shakily, and it was a real effort to try to relight the lamp. Finally he got it lighted and saw that it was not a ghost that had awakened him but one of the women.

He sat there after she had gone back into the front room still wiping the cold sweat from his brow.

A little later in came the other woman.

"I think the corpse is turning," she said, "I wish you would come in here and see what you think."

That was too much. The boy sat glued to the chair. "I couldn't have moved if my life had depended on it," he said. He could just picture the man coming to life again and sitting up in the casket.

A Tactful Woman

The woman saw the scared expression on his face and knew what he was thinking. She quickly reassured him by changing her first statement. "I think he is turning black," she said. But the boy still couldn't move. It took quite a little time before he could get himself off the chair and follow the woman into the front room.

"I stood as far back as possible," the man said, "And told her the dead man looked all right to me. And that" he added, "Was not only my first experience of sitting up with the dead—but it was my last."

Mrs. Golder Martin and Shirley Welch spent the day in Columbia, Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Golden Milburn left Thursday for Huntsville, where they will visit their son-in-law and daughter, the Rev. and Mrs. Woodrow Moore and two sons. From there they will go to visit their son in Iowa. Mr. Milburn is working at the Jefferson City state prison and is now on vacation.

Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Martin and children, Mary Ellen and Paul, were guests Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. William Boehlen and son, Kenneth, of Brush Creek community. They were to take Mrs. Martin's grandmother, Mrs. Delzetta Simmers, to her home there, after spending two weeks visiting in the Martin home. Mrs. Dewey Yarnell had among her several visitors over and during the fourth of July holidays, her brother Herbert Kneisley, of Rich Grove, Calif. He has been teaching a number of years in the Rich Grove school. He comes here each summer and makes an extended visit with his mother, Mrs. George Kneisley, and with his sisters and brothers. His mother is in somewhat poor health, and greatly welcomes the visit of her son. Mrs. Yarnell's husband and sons Dewey Jr. and Jerry Dean, who are working on the Trans-Continental trucks, enjoyed the holidays at home.

The D. V. B. S. which has been in progress the past two weeks at Clarksburg Baptist church, conducted by the pastor, Reverend Dameron, assisted by a number of the local church members, as teachers and helpers, closed Friday afternoon. There was an enrollment of sixey, with something near that number as an average attendance. The school was well attended and seems to have been a profitable two weeks spent. The closing program was rendered Sunday evening at the church, instead of the regular evening church service.

For Long Term Salvation Plan For Great Britain

By J. M. Roberts, Jr.
AP Foreign Affairs Analyst

Prime Minister Attlee, linking Britain's dollar crisis to the whole problem of world stability and peace, says the commonwealth must also seek a foundation for long term salvation.

Lying behind his words is a situation which involves a great deal more than any postwar crisis.

Britain is not in trouble merely because of wartime drains, because of the liquidation of her overseas investments, or of the cold war. The cold war itself is merely a manifestation, caused by Russia's attempt to make capital of a revolutionary situation in the world.

More and more it seems evident that Britain is in for a tremendous and unhappy readjustment. That something about her economic position is basically wrong.

By accident, or because of the coordination of her people's skill which itself might be termed an accident of her history, Britain pioneered some 200 years ago in what we have come to call the industrial revolution. By her inventiveness, particularly in the fields of iron and textile manufacturer, she became the processor for a very large part of the world's raw materials. To get these raw materials she developed the world's greatest merchant fleet, evolved a vast colonial system, and protected it with the world's greatest navy. The merchant fleet became an industry in itself, carrying not only for England but for all others. As the middleway between the sources of raw materials and the consumer, Britain likewise became the world's banker. The people of a small island controlled a vast proportion of the world.

No Longer Advantage

The first textile and steel mills built in France and America marked the beginning of a new day—a day which has now come to twilight, in which Britain no longer holds the advantages of her head start in industralization.

For 50 years and longer, with only coal and the skill and experience of her people to depend on, she has been in competition with areas which have far more. In the last few years, in addition, she has run up against a growing nationalism and a protective economic awakening in what once was her empire. The producers of raw materials seek the benefits of doing their own processing.

It seems inevitable that this development should increase the cost of raw materials to Britain while at the same time decreasing her possible markets, making her position more and more uneconomic.

For a long time she fought this trend through investment in the new industrial fields abroad, thus obtaining income with which to buy her food. She had to liquidate these invesements to pay for war purchases over and above lend-lease. India, once great source of British wealth, is now a creditor. Once a great market, it is now pushing industrialization. India is, to Britain, a blazing sign of changing times.

In more than 2,000 years of history the British have met and adjusted themselves to many changes. There is more than sentiment behind their confidence that there'll always be an England. But efforts to tell what will come out this time are futile.

Britain will hardly be a Cuba, with a one-crop economy—in this case, coal. She cannot support her population as a Switzerland, depending almost solely on products of great precision, although that remains one of her great fortes.

Nor will the mere solution of a dollar crisis, or any one particular crisis, solve the economic fate of Britain.

Girl Rescuer Of Brother Regains Consciousness

ST. JOSEPH, Mo., July 14—(AP)—Miss Marjorie Obermier, 16, who was struck by a freight train in pushing her young brother from the path of the locomotive Wednesday regained consciousness for the first time in 18 days.

She was able to eat her first meal.

The girl threw herself in front of the fast train June 25 to push her baby brother off the tracks. The boy, Craig, three, has recovered from his injuries and has returned home.

The red wolf has recently been exterminated in the American Southeast.

GOVERNOR SMILES
—John J. McCloy, new American Military Governor for Germany, smiles a greeting as he leaves headquarters in Berlin after taking command.

We Learned About People — From YOU!

We've been operating drug stores for a long time — more than 26 years, to be exact — and during that time we've learned a great deal about people. For instance, they like having a drug store close at hand, for quick, easy shopping. They like the dependability of nationally known, established products. And especially do they like the little courtesies shown them by friendly, well-trained employess.

In short, people like the convenience, the quality, and the service at Crown.

Is There Such a Servant?

THERE IS!

REDDY KILOWATT, your electric servant, who works for you through Missouri Public Service has been answering ads like these in the area we serve for a good many years.

Reddy is very self-sustaining. You don't have to board him or find him a place to sleep. He lives in the wires behind the walls. And when he isn't working he's standing sentry so as to be able to comply immediately with your slightest wish whenever you flick a switch, or when the automatic watchmen on your various appliances flick the switch for you.

The best part of all is that Reddy still works for less than pre-war wages and his salary scale is arranged so that the more you give him to do the less the cost becomes to you for each job done.

Your friends and neighbors are Reddy's best boosters and you may obtain ideas from many of them of how they have utilized his services economically for better and more pleasureable living.

Golfers Meet in $16,000 Tourney

PITTSBURGH, July 14—(AP)—PGA champ Sam Snead and open titleholder Gary Middlecoff resume their golfing war today, leading the field of 156 pros and amateurs teeing off in the $16,000 Dapper Dam tournament.

Middlecoff, currently holding a slight lead over Snead in the battle for money winning honors, topped the shotmaker from White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., by one stroke in the recent Reading, Pa., tourney.

The Dapper Dam — a 72-hole four-day competition over the rolling Alcoma Country club course — also is expected to play a major rôle in the selection of the two remaining members of the U. S. Ryder cup team.

Vic Ghezzi, defending Dapper Dam champion from Deal, N. J., is one of the Ryder cup aspirants entered here. Others are Bob Hamilton of Landover, Md.; Johnny Bulla of Pittsburgh and Dick Metz of Virginia Beach, Va. and Arkansas City, Kas.

Ryder Cup team members are selected on a point basis as a result of competitive performance.

Top favorites in the 1949 Dapper Dam include Ghezzi, Snead, Middlecoff and Lloyd Mangrum, the Chicago iron master.

The pro winner will pocket $2,500 with district pros competing for $1,000 on the side. Profits go to charity.

St. Joseph and Fort Smith are still the hottest clubs in the Western Association pennant race.

Both won again last night.

St. Joseph has won 12 against two losses this month. Fort Smith, in second place behind the Cardinals, has won 11 and lost five.

St. Joseph pushed over two runs in the eighth inning at Muskogee last night to win 3-2. The teams traded home runs in the seventh. Cardinal pitcher Bob Gregory homered for St. Joseph and in the last half of the inning Dudley Carson hit his 12th circuit blow of the year.

Fort Smith Beat Leavenworth

Fort Smith won from Leavenworth 11-2. Southpaw John Walsh picked up his 11th victory of the season against a single defeat, striking out 15 Leavenworth batsmen. Ray Wiese led the Fort Smith attack with a home run and a triple.

Salina won a doubleheader at Topeka, taking the first game 2-1 and the second 9-4. The first game was a pitching duel with Jack Bell dropping a one hitter.

Joplin took a doubleheader from Hutchinson, 1-0 and 11-1. Bill Bagwell hurled a three-hitter in the first game and Lilburn Smith came back with a performance just as good in the second.

Hutchinson pulled a triple play in the second inning of the nightcap.

Indianapolis Beats K.C. Blues

By The Associated Press

Jim Walsh pitched Indianapolis back into a virtual first place tie with St. Paul last night as he went 11 innings to best Kansas City 5 to 2, in the only American Association game played.

The former Pittsburgh Pirate righthander, who won four and lost two last year with Indianapolis, marked up his 13th victory against two defeats for the season. Walsh and Phil Haugstad, St. Paul's 25-year-old righthander, are tied for the AA pitching leadership.

Kansas City scored a run in the eighth inning to knot the count at 2-all. In the top of the 11th the Indians pushed across three markers to cop the decision. A double by Bob Ganss and pinch-hitter Kalin's two-run single gave the Indians the game.

Rain stopped Columbus at Minneapolis, Louisville at St. Paul, and Toledo at Milwaukee.

It's a Tight Race In The K-O-M League

By the Associated Press

Think the K-O-M league race isn't tight? Then look at the standings today.

There's only seven games difference between league-leading and seventh place Miami. And only three and one-half games separate the first five teams.

The first six clubs have a .500 percentage or better. The seventh is only three games short of the break even mark.

With eight weeks playing time remaining any team except last place Pittsburg has a shot at the pennant.

Bus Walker Allows Only Two Hits As Sedalia Gets 16

The Sedalia Athletics overpowered the Lee's Summit Red Sox 17 to 0 at Liberty Park, Wednesday evening, to register their 14th victory in 18 games this season.

Bus Walker on the hill for Sedalia turned in a sparkling performance, and had a no-hitter going into the ninth inning. He was backed up by a flawless defense in the field, as the Athletics played errorless ball. Walker also had 17 strikeouts, allowed only two hits, and issued five passes. McMackin was the catcher.

Sedalia was also strong in the hitting department, collecting 16 base blows and taking advantage of a total of nine walks. Taylor, the third baseman, was the leading hitter of the evening with four for six. Thompson, right field, had three for five, including a double, and Livengood, first base, had three for six. The Athletics had complete control of the game, and definitely put it on ice in the fourth inning with eight runs, after 13 men had batted during the inning.

Two Hits In Ninth

The Red Sox' lone hits came in the ninth,. With none out, J. Hook, second base,, hit a slow roller to the shortstop which he beat out for an infield hit, the only solid hit of the game.

Brummett was the Red Sox starter, but was relieved in the fifth by J. Hook, who in turn was relieved by Dykes in the seventh. Donnington worked behind the plate.

J. Hook turned in the fielding play of the game in the first inning. Livengood hit a looper over second base, and Hook ran back for it and collided hard with the right fielder, who was also racing for the ball. Hook held it, although both players were shaken up for a few minutes after they ran together.

The score by innings:

Lee's Summitt	000	000	000—	0	2	3
Sedalia	014	802	200—17	16	0

MacArthur Approves World Series in Tokyo

ST. LOUIS, July 14—(AP)—Gen. Douglas MacArthur has approved a 1950 world series in Tokyo for non-professional teams under the National Baseball Congress.

J. B. Taylor Spink, publisher of the Sporting News and global commissioner for the congress, said he had received word of MacArthur's action from Giles C. Stedman of San Francisco, Far Eastern commissioner for the Baseball Congress.

Spink said the winner of the North American series in September, 1950, will represent the western hemisphere at Tokyo against the championship team of the Far East.

This will be determined by playoffs between Korea, the Philippines, Japan and China, Spink explained.

The U. S. national tournament finals for non-professional teams this year will open at Wichita, Kas., August 19.

Spink said MacArthur has okayed a trip by the San Francisco Seals to Tokyo this year for a post-season exhibitin series designed to pave the way for the non-professional series next year.

16 Resume Play in U.S. Public Links Meet

LOS ANGELES, July 14—(AP)—They're finally down to 16 in the U. S. public links golf tournament.

The 16 left are the toughened winners after four rounds of gruelling medal play. In this 24th annual classic.

Thus far it's been fatal to pick anyone who looks outstanding. He's been knocked off regularly in the next round. But if there is one today who outshines the other 15, it's Donald Shock of Dayton, O., who has more than lived up to his name.

His conquests include Harry Gurlet of Denver, who knocked off Tom Marlowe of Portland, who ousted last year's defending champion, Mike Ferentz of Long Beach, Calif.

Shock is a 25-year-old navy veteran, who went five under par to eliminate Gurley, then cooled down but still had enough stuff to subdue Dante Vicini of Ottawa, Ill., yesterday afternoon.

Ken Towns of Burlingame, near San Francisco looks like the second best bet. He led a contingent of three Bay City players into the final 16 — the largest single sectional group.

Work On Pooch To Stop Wheeze

CHILLICOTHE, Mo., July 14—(AP)—Old Pooch, a hunting dog, won't take to the field this fall unless veterinarians can cure the wheeze in his throat.

Pooch is a 12-year-old Irish setter, owned by L. F. Forbis of near Chillicothe. Forbis maintains that more birds have been shot over Pooch than any other dog in the state. Some 50 hunters have used the dog for a bag Forbis estimates at 4,000 quail.

The dog, which began retrieving when he was a pup three months old, developed a noise in his throat last season. Although veterinarians think Pooch might have heart trouble, the dog is as frisky as a five-year-old.

By Hugh Fullerton, Jr.

NEW YORK, July 14—(AP)—It isn't surprising to hear Bill McKechnie come out with optimistic words about the Cleveland Indians, especially since they've climbed to second place. . . . Bill never was one to knock a club he worked for. . . . "We're hitting better now and we're really coming along," McKechnie says, and he really seems to mean it. . . . "Lou Boudreau is really hitting now and Doby has brought his average up a lot. Lou is playing a lot since Ken Keltner was hurt and Ray Boone is going to be a good shorstop. He's over his nervousness now. . . . It was our pitching that was carrying us for a while, but we are hitting now." . . . After that explanation, Bill took off to hit to the infielders with the further comment: "It's up to us old folks to make these youngsters hustle," and brother, he does.

Last Word

After the all-star baseball game in Brooklyn Tuesday, someone asked Charley Segar, National league publicitor: "Is this game supposed to be played for or by old-time ball players?" . . . Maybe the answer should have been that it was a benefit for the fresh error fund. . . . Anyway, the National leaguers wanted to win in the worst way; instead they lost in the worst way.

One-Minute Sports Page

Top price for the Ezzard Charles-Gus Lesnevich fight in New York will be $16.50. In Philly Robinson and Gavilan fought for a $12.50 top. . . . Maybe they're charging by the pound. . . . . Looks like the Red Sox figure they may need help in a hurry later in the season. They shifted pitcher Windy McCall to Louisville and persuaded Seattle to deliver Sammy White, the $75,000 rookie catcher, ahead of schedule so he could go to the same club. . . . Chick Evans won the Western Open golf championship in 1910 and hasn't missed one since, though he never repeated. . . . Chick says it was a tougher tournament than the U. S. Open or Amateur in those days.

The Cincinnati Reds' publicity dept. has dug up the fact that almost the entire 1883 team barely escaped death or serious injury in an elevator accident. All but one player was on the elevator that crashed. . . . Maybe that was a precedent for the Reds' annual plunge to the cellar.

Managers Comment on Their Teams

Cardinals Have Won 35 of Their Last 50 Games

By Joe Reichler
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

The major league pennant races are going to wind up in two triple ties for first place.

At least that's the conclusion one draws after comment from Casey Stengel, Burt Shotton, Joe McCarthy, Connie Mack and other optimistic pilots.

The latest and most surprising skipper to look into the future through rose colored glasses is Joe McCarthy, the usually reticient leader of the Boston Red Sox.

Although weighted down in fourth place, eight and a half games off the pace at the halfway mark, McCarthy insisted that his club "from here in is the team to beat" in the American league race.

The Red Sox really are moving now. They've won seven in a row and are only a game and a half behind the third place Philadelphia Athletics.

Doesn't Share Opinion

Casey Stengel, who has done such an amazing job with the front running New York Yankees, does not share McCarthy's opinion.

"I had been inclined to think that the Red Sox would provide us with the toughest competition," Stengel said. "But when we knocked them off five times in a row recently, that finished them."

A week ago Stengel picked the Athletics as the only team that could stop his Yankees, who currently hold a five and a half game bulge over the second place Cleveland Indians.

Whereupon the Yankees knocked off the Mackmen in a solo contest and started them on their way to a five-game losing streak.

Connie Mack, Philadelphia's 86-year-old manager, is not discouraged, however.

Feels They Can Win

"Our boys, although in third place today, feel they still can win and I, as their manager, have to go along with them, naturally," he said. "Don't count us out. We still have a good chance.

Cleveland's Lou Boudreau did not talk much but grinned knowingly when asked whether he thought he would repeat.

"We're still the champions," he said.

Burt Shotton, grizzled Brooklyn manager, still insists, as he has all season long, that his Dodgers are going to win the National league flag. In this he has the backing of his boss, Branch Rickey. Currently, the Dodgers hold a half-game edge on the St. Louis Cardinals, who have won 35 of their last 50 games.

15 Percent Improved

Redbirds leader Eddie Dyer thinks his team is at least 15 percent improved with the addition of pitchers Max Lanier and Fred Martin and infielder Lou Klein.

Dyer and Billy Southworth, the manager of the third place Boston Braves, envisioned a stretch drive that would not produce a winner until the final day.

The Indians in the American, and Brooklyn and Boston in the National, face an opportunity to strengthen their claims, as each opens a 13-game home stand, starting tonight.

Brooklyn digs in at Ebbets field for a two-week stand.

The Cards will be on the road.

The Daily Washington Merry-Go-Round

by Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON, July 14 — Six state department stenographers were kept busy last week retyping and toning down the American White Paper on China. Hastily censored out were allegations labeling certain relatives of Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek as crooks.

Inside reason for these sudden changes was a long and continuing agrument between Secretary of State Acheson and Secretary of Defense Louis Johnson. For three months Johnson had been building a bonfire under the state department urging it to support Chiang Kai-Shek's Kuomintang.

Johnson is a personal friend and former attorney for Dr. H. H. Kung, brother-in-law of the generalissimo and reputedly one of the world's wealthiest men. At cabinet meetings, at super secret meetings of the National Security Council, Johnson constantly, continually needled Acheson.

For a long time there was no result. In fact, when Acheson returned from the Paris conference the other day he ordered his staff to work out a new blueprint for American-Chinese relations which was to be strongly anti-Chiang.

Acheson Outvoted

That blueprint was placed before the National Security Council last week. After a vigorous debate the vote went against Acheson—about 5 to 1. Those voting no were Johnson, the treasury department, and heads of the armed services. They favored continued support for Chiang Kai-Shek's regime no matter how graft ridden.

Swinging the decision against Acheson were two factors:

1. A statement by Mao Tse-Tung, leader of Red China, that he was a Moscow-loving Communist;

2. First indications that Chinese Reds planned rough treatment for American personnel, as later proved by the beating up of U. S. vice consul William Olive.

Instead of Acheson's proposed hands-off policy, the joint chiefs of staff recommended a ring of defenses around Red China. This ring will consist of the Japan-Formosa-Philippines island chain, plus Siam, Burma, India and one small part of South China where Chiang Kai-Shek will be defended to the last ditch.

General MacArthur has cabled his vigorous support of this general idea — which, incidentally, will cost a large and so far unestimated amount of money.

Pegler Probe

Young congressman Jack Kennedy of Boston was elected as a fighting, aggressive champion of labor. He is also the son of Joseph P. Kennedy, ex-ambassador to London, an admirer of columnist Westbrook Pegler.

And when Pegler called labor leaders "despots, criminals and Communists" at a congressional hearing, young Kennedy resigned from the sub-committee, after first protesting the manner in which Chairman Andrew Jacobs of Indianapolis was grilling Pegler.

"Why don't you let somebody else ask some questions?" asked Kennedy. "Representative Sims (S.C.) would like to ask a few."

"You've got your ideas and I've got mine," shot back Jacobs. "You'll get your turn after I get through."

Blazing mad, Kennedy left the committee rostrum and took a seat in the front row of spectators. After chatting briefly with an acquaintance, he went back on the rostrum and announced: "I'm getting off the subcommittee."

"That's okay with me," replied Jacobs.

New York Politics

Former Governor Herbert Lehman and New York boss Ed Flynn have been playing cat-and-mouse over who will run for Bob Wagner's Senate seat.

They held two secret huddles last week, during which Flynn tried to get Lehman to announce his candidacy for the Senate immediately. Flynn didn't say so but, if Lehman announced right away, the way would be clear for Flynn's friend, Brooklyn borough president John Cashmore, to be Democratic candidate for mayor of the world's largest city.

Lehman, however, knows he'll have a tough fight to win the Senate seat in November, so he wants a strong candidate on the ticket with him for mayor — and not John Cashmore. That is why he refused to announce until assured who his running mate will be.

Merry-Go-Round

Wonder what's become of Elizabeth Bentley, the buxom, confessed female spy who started all the fuss over Alger Hiss. During the Hiss trial she was strangely absent. Nothing left of her in Washington except a hotel bill for $500, for which conscientious Congressman Wood of the un-American Activities committee wants special authority from Congress in order to settle. . . . Chip Robert, ex-Democratic treasurer, and Sam Pryor, ex-Republican treasurer, got together the other day. They admitted that in the old days they sometimes compared notes. If one bigwig gave to the Republicans, Sam tipped off Chip and Chip collected for the Democrats — and vice versa. . . . Chip, incidentally, has a date to go leopard shooting in Ceylon September 15. He can leave Washington on a Thursday, spend the weekend shooting Indian leopards and get back by Monday. . . Ex-Congresswoman Georgia Lusk of New Mexico will soon be appointed to the new war claims commission. . . Alert Congressman Furcolo of Massachusetts has urged President Truman to revamp future espionage trials. Truman has accepted Furcolo's suggestion.

Capital News Capsules

Senate Office Scramble —John Foster Dulles' arrival in the Senate has started a scramble for offices. Twenty-five Senators are planning to trade offices—just to make room for the new Senator from New York. What happened is that under seniority system, Dulles is low man on the totem pole and not entitled to the choice office vacated by Senator Wagner. Next in line is Senator O'Mahoney of Wyoming. But if he moves into Wagner's office, Senator Chavez of New Mexico is entitled to shift to O'Mahoney's office. And so on down the seniority ladder. Meanwhile, Senator Ives of New York is trying to talk colleagues out of this wholesale moving since Dulles will be in the Senate only a few months anyway.

Warning to Americans — Ambassador Leighton Stuart has warned all American diplomats in China to be on their best behavior in dealing with the Communists. Stuart believes the Communists' action in jailing and beating U. S. vice consul Olive in Shanghai is just the first step in a campaign to brand all American diplomats as spies.

Indian Massacre in Brazil

In the vast, uncharted reaches of the upper Amazon river basin, attacks by hostile Indians on hunting or exploring parties are still fairly common. But now, for the first time in years, a band of these fearless savages has laid siege to an established community, obliging the Brazilian government to rush in troops.

Details of this startling incident, which sounds like a tale out of U. S. frontier history, have just been received from the heart of the Amazon jungles. There may have been other attacks on more isolated villages; the ones reported were against settlements on the railroad, less than 200 miles from the northern coastal city of Belem.

Just before dawn on the morning of July 4, a band of some 500 Indians, stark naked and armed with bows and poisoned arrows, swept down without warning on workers' encampment along the narrow-gauge Tocantin railway, which struggles westward for 450 miles up the Amazon valley from Belem.

Killing and looting, the savages practically razed these camps, then raced on to converge upon the little town of Tucurui, which has a permanent population of about 700. Their first attempt to invade the village was beaten off by the mayor and the railway telegrapher with shotguns.

The Indians withdrew into the jungle but attacked again five hours later. This time they succeeded in penetrating the settlement, killed one man and a woman, and seized a quantity of arms.

Meanwhile ,the telegrapher had sent a message to Belem for help. The Para state government responded with a squad of armed police, and a few hours later federal zone headquarters sent two patrols of soldiers with machine guns.

The police reached Tucurui on the evening of July 5 and immediately set out in pursuit of the Indians. They found, no trace of the attackers, dead or alive. Since then the soldiers have been assigned as permanent garrisons for Tucurui and tanother nearby village.

All railroad workers have since been armed and authorized to shoot at strange Indians on sight. Soldiers patrol the right of way with rifles at the ready. Nevertheless, two workers who went a few yards into the jungle to drink from a spring, on the morning of July 6, were found dead —shot by poisoned arrows.

Until about 1900 buttermilk was used in America chiefly for feeding pigs, according to the Encyclopedia Britannica.

The eastern timber wolf once ranged east throughout the Atlantic states as far south as Georgia.

Assessed Fine Over Improper License

Glenn C. Keown, of Kansas City, was fined $15 and costs before Judge W. M. Ilgenfritz in Magistrate Court, Wednesday He was picked up by the state patrol on June 5, 1949, for operating a 1935 Terraplane with improper license.

CLIPPED ANGEL

By Clive Grierson Cornish

Copyright, 1949, NEA SERVICE, INC.

THE STORY: Mike McTaig, a mining engineer, has been hired by Cory Parnell, a beautiful young woman, to learn why the Dark Angel mine, inherited from her father, isn't producing as it did in the past. Mike finds samplings he takes from the mine and which are analyzed secretly, show higher ore content than is revealed by Riggs of the company assay office, but Cory is unwilling to fire any of her old employes. Mike then searches for a dummy mine that might dispose of the stolen ore. He finds the Argus mine suspicious, but there is no definite evidence against it. Then, while searching for a secret exit through which the ore has been taken, an attempt is made on Mike's life. Mike has a theory that while he's around the mine the thieves will lay low and ore production will suddenly rise. But when he obtains figures from the mill, he finds that they are the same as before. Uncle Jake Whinnaker, mill manager, who with the underground foreman, Archie Trask, are suspected, tells Mike, "I wish I knew why you didn't trust us."

THEY had an extra special dinner at the boarding house that night, for somebody's birthday—or so I'm told. I didn't eat any.

I sat in my room upstairs and waited for my mind to stop running around in a huge circle so I could think more or less coherently.

The thing that had me looping was that the impossible had happened.

I had personally sampled the ore from the working faces of the mine and that ore had gone into the mill bunkers on Wednesday. I had seen it there with Uncle Jake. The low-grade was there and the high-grade was there.

On a perfectly normal production schedule, by Thursday afternoon it had been milled, concentrated, dried and loaded into a car. With $15 ore concentrated ten to one, that car had to run $150 to the ton.

Instead, it ran less than $50. Why? That was the hundred dollar question.

I dug up the slip of paper with the assay figures that Effie had given me over the phone and stared at them. I knew the outfit that did my assay work in Seattle—they'd been in business 50 years and they didn't make mistakes.

I tried to remember Tuesday night. Supposing, on that last sampling at 2 o'clock in the morning I'd been so dog-tired that I'd taken too much from the pay-streak, not once, but from all four levels? And supposing that for once in my life I had succeeded in tying a genuine reef knot?

• • •

MAYBE Riggs was okay. Maybe everybody was okay except me, and I was a nasty-minded, suspicious old crock of 37 years, overdue for retirement and prematurely soured on human nature.

And yet, less than three hours ago somebody had tried to kill me!

At that point I must have fallen asleep, even though I was sitting up and fully dressed. I dreamed I was chased along a tunnel by Uncle Jake and young Riggs and the tough character from the Argus Mines.

They were pitching chunks of ore at me and yelling, "Yah! So you don't trust us, eh?" The mouth of the tunnel appeared ahead and I made a desperate leap for safety—and landed flat in the mud below the chute at Argus Mines.

I fell off the chair when I made that leap, and even though I was partly awake I started to scramble out of th mud. That woke me up completely, but the dream was so vivid I could still almost feel the smooth soft surface of the mud under my hands.

And then I knew what was wrong with Argus Mines.

That mud had no right to be smooth! If the mine had been operating the week before, then the ground under the loading chute ought to have been criss-crossed back and forth with hundreds of truck tire marks.

It wasn't—because no ore had ever come out of the Argus Mine.

• • •

I WAS about to open the door and walk downstairs when it struck me it would be foolhardy to advertise my movements.

It was not more than an eight-foot drop from my window to the ground and I was confident nobody saw me. I kept in the shadow of a fence, by-passed several houses, and cut through somebody's cabbage patch to the main street.

I could see a sedan parked across the street and the silhouette of somebody sitting in the front seat. At 2 o'clock in the morning they weren't there to admire the view. I sneaked back to the lane and came out in the shadows a hundred yards farther down.

The overhead lights in the main tunnel were off but the electric clusters in the mill cast a faint glow near the portal.

Once inside I moved along the left-hand wall until I came to the first old drift. I couldn't use my headlamp because it showed too much light, so I used a pocket flash and shaded it with my hands.

I was looking for tracks, and not the kind made by animals, human or otherwise, but iron rails.

I found what I wanted, opposite a cross-cut about three hundred feet back from the portal. I found it when I brushed aside the muck from the tongue of a switch and tapped the steel rail gently with my hammer.

It wasn't like the others—covered with great leaves of rust that crumbled like corn flakes. Underneath the muck the metal was clean and sound—and that meant that it was used regularly.

Dim Hopes Of Crop Subsidies

Move To Extend Present System Of Price Support

By Francis J. Kelly

WASHINGTON, July 14—(AP)—The administration's hopes for a "trial run" of crop subsidies for farmers were chilled Wednesday when several influential Democratic House members joined Republicans in demanding a year's extension of the present farm price support system.

Rep. Gore (D-Tenn), Rep. Cox (D-Ga) and Chairman Sabath (D-Ill), of the rules committee were among the Democrats who assailed the administration's plan.

Gore, who usually is counted an administration supporter, introduced a substitute bill to continue the present farm law through 1950. Then the rules committee cleared the rival administration bill for House debate. In doing so, however, it stipulated that the House be given an opportunity to vote on Gore's substitute, too.

The present law, which Gore wants retained, provides rigid support of major crops at 90 percent of parity. Parity is a level calculated to give farmers a purchasing power which is fair in relation to the price of the things they buy.

Set Aside Alternate Plans

Adoption of Gore's plan would set aside two alternate farm plans: (1) The delayed-action Aiken law, passed by the Republican 80th Congress and scheduled to take effect next Jan. 1, and (2) the bill already approved by the House agriculture committee calling not only for high-level rigid price supports for major crops but also for a trial run on three crops of the administration - backed Brannan plan for production payments or subsidies from the treasury to farmers.

Announcing his proposal to keep the present law in effect another year, Gore said:

"Farmers are not for the Brannan plan. All farm organizations save the Farmers Union are opposed to it. x x x

"I think it is fuzzy, befuddled politics to think that we Democrats can make political hay by force-feeding the farmer something he doesn't want."

If the Brannan plan were adopted for hogs and pork, Gore said, it might cost $500,000,000 next year. But he said that added cost would be "only incidental."

BANS DOLLAR SPENDING—Sir Stafford Cripps, British Chancellor of the Exchequer, tells, in London, of the government's ban on all dollar spending for the next three months.

If the atmosphere were free of dust and other debris from the earth, we would never enjoy the sight of a colorful sunset.

LUCKIES ARE A FINER CIGARETTE!

Constant research at Lucky Strike's famous cigarette laboratory—America's largest and most completely equipped—is devoted to giving you a finer cigarette!

THERE is no finer cigarette in the world today than Lucky Strike. Here's why: Lucky Strike means fine tobacco. And every step in the making of Luckies—from before this fine tobacco is bought until the finished cigarette reaches you—comes under the watchful eye of the largest and most completely equipped cigarette research laboratory in America.

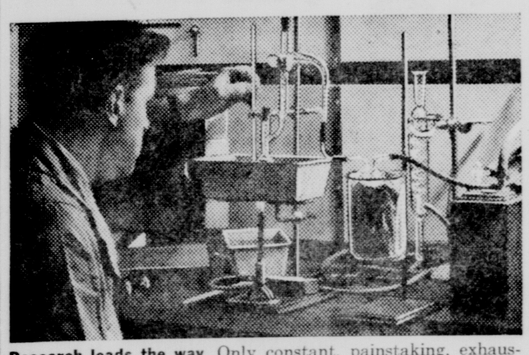
For many years, the famous Lucky Strike laboratory in Richmond, Virginia, has been a center of cigarette science and technology. In this remarkable building you can see a fascinating collection of scientific instruments — microscopes, spectrophotometers, balances, projectors, humidification chambers, and many other complicated and costly machines.

Working with this array of scientific equipment are more than 60 highly trained specialists—chemists, biologists, engineers, physicists. They work on tobacco, on finished cigarettes, on paper, foil, cellophane and even printing inks. For Lucky Strike scientists have for years delved into cigarette research on an extensive scale.

Today, because of the miracle of modern science, Lucky Strike is a finer cigarette.

Testing tobacco. Samples from every tobacco-growing area are analyzed before and after purchase. These extensive scientific analyses, along with the expert judgment of Lucky Strike buyers, assure you that the tobacco in Luckies is fine, light and mild. No wonder Luckies are a finer cigarette.

Luckies stay fresh. After Lucky Strike cigarettes have been packaged, they must be tightly sealed to remain fresh. Here you see the cellophane seal being tested for air-tightness. Such instruments are in constant use at every plant.



Research leads the way. Only constant, painstaking, exhaustive research—as conducted on a large scale through the years by The American Tobacco Company—could produce the scientific knowledge that results in the quality of Luckies.

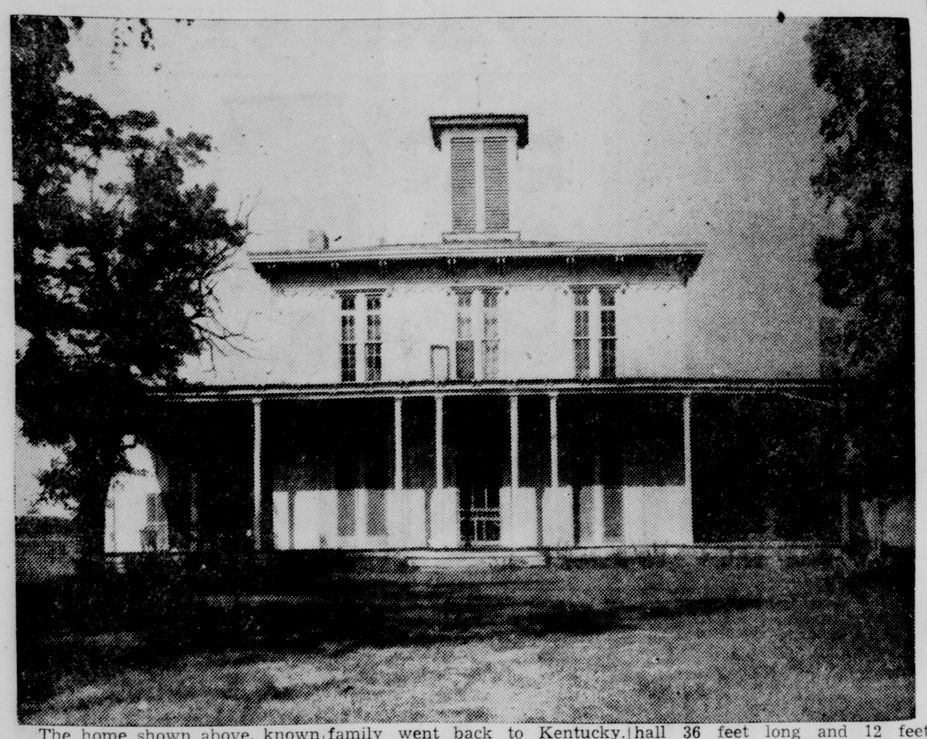
Steamboat House Has Been Razed



The home shown above, known as the Steamboat House that was located three miles east of Hughesville, has been torn down. The old home was one of Pettis county's oldest homes and landmarks, it being built in 1859 by a family from Kentucky named Hughes. It was patterned after the steamboats then popular on the Missouri and Mississippi rivers. Mrs. Hughes, who was a woman of considerable wealth, had the home built but after becoming homesick and discontent she and the rest of the Hughes family went back to Kentucky. The home was sold to a Jones family and they in turn sold it to Das McClure, who until the home was torn down, resided there with his wife and two children Mary Kay and Jack.

The white pine lumber used in the construction of the house was hauled by ox team to its site from Boonville after it was floated down the river to that point.

The house had 14 foot ceilings and a front door that was approximately 12½ feet high. This front door opened into a giant hall 36 feet long and 12 feet wide. The house contained 16 rooms with a large double dining room with large double doors, which were seldom opened because of their size. There are many legends about this old structure.

On the cupola atop the house, Civil War soldiers carved their names as they passed through this section of the country.

The new home of the McClures will be a modern ranch styled house.

Little Bounce In Economy Can be Seen

Some Things That Have Dropped Are Now on Rebound

By Sam Dawson

NEW YORK, July 14 — (AP) — There's still a lot of bounce in our economy. Today's news shows a number of things that have dropped, in price and output, and are now on the rebound. It's only a little bounce back so far, but it's pleasant reading.

Demand has picked up for copper and lead, two items that dropped fast and far since March. And prices are firming on the two important metals.

Wheat prices are firmer—pleasant news for farmers, unless they happen to be the ones whose crops were injured by disease and bad weather in June. It was this cut in the expected supply that strengthened prices.

Rayon suits have been selling well this summer and some manufacturers report they have sold out their considerable supply. Rayon prices have firmed.

Reached Low Point

American Radiator & Standard Sanitary Corp. says it has reached the low point in sales and earnings, and looks for improvement from now on, and expects to reopen some of its idle plants before Christmas.

The Ansco division of General Aniline & Film Corp. has put its photographic paper plant back on a six-day week. It had been on a four-day schedule but demand from the photo finishing dealers has jumped and Ansco has "found it necessary to increase our output."

Some woolen mills found demand for certain types of fabrics used by the women's wear trade so good that mills are booked solid into September and prices have gone up a little.

The New England purchasing Agents association says 18 per cent of its 106 reporting firms found business better in many for June.

These may be little things, but they show how things that go down can go back up as conditions straighten out.

Porcupines, which are merely interesting animals to summer tourists and campers, are serious money-costing pests to foresters in winter. They gnaw bark from trees, frequently causing death by complete girdling.

Old Fashioned Blueberry Cobbler

Ingredients: 1 pint basket large firm cultivated blueberries, 1 cup sugar, ½ teaspoon lemon juice, ¼ teaspoon cinnamon, 1 cup sifted all-purpose flour, 1 teaspoon double-acting baking powder, ¼ teaspoon salt, 1 egg, 2 tablespoons butter or margarine, ¼ cup milk, ½ teaspoon vanilla.

Method: Put blueberries in colander or large strainer; pick over. Wash under cold running water, shake gently and allow to stand a few minutes to drain. Turn onto a tea towel and pat dry. Put blueberries in the bottom of a greased 8x8x2-inch cake pan. Sprinkle with ½ cup of the sugar, the lemon juice, and the cinnamon and mix carefully so berries will be coated with the sugar; set aside. Mix and sift the flour, baking powder, salt, and remaining ½ cup sugar. Beat egg with a rotary or electric mixer until it begins to get pale and thick. Melt butter or margarine and beat with egg, milk and vanilla enough to combine; add dry ingredients and mix well. Put spoonfuls of the batter over blueberries at intervals and spread carefully over entire surface with a spatual in a thin layer. Bake in a moderate (350 degree F.) oven for 45 minutes. Serve with thin cream. Makes 6 servings.

Clean Up and Slim Down

By Alicia Hart
NEA Staff Writer

Turn the puttering that you do in the back yard or garden or terrace into a game of figure-improvement. You can slim down, get a tan and knock off your "green-thumb" chores all at the same time.

This three-way ticket to a beautiful figure with a handsome you use your body with supple tan thrown in is only good if know-how while you work.

Vines to train? Exaggerate your reach and give arm muscles a good overhead tug. This is a chest-firming exercise and the overhead stretch, tall and tense one moment, relaxed all-of-aheap the next, will also build up a taut, muscular girdle. Cutting tall shrubbery or pruning dead boughs from fruit trees will give arms, chest and waist the same kind of overhead stretch.

A quick cleanup of the back yard can mean as many as two-dozen arm-stretching exercises as you sweep the rake forward elbows stiff, and haul it back with elbows bent. The forward and back movement will also help to firm up flabby flesh on upper arms.

Deep-knee bends you'll take to gather up the collected pile of leaves and trash for burning will be as good as supervised calisthenics if you slide down slowly, using your spine as axis, back straight — head held high.

Don't let the men in the family reap all of the benefits from mowing the lawn. Latch on to this exercise for strengthening your own back muscles, whittling down your own waistline. The push of the mower will be more rewarding if you'll keep the bend out of your back, keep elbows at chest level.

When freeing the mower from grass snags or when weeding the garden, stoop over from the waist with straight knees; this is a classic waist reducing exercise. It can be too strenuous! There is another way weeds and a spreading hipline can be reduced at the same time. Smooth a mat out alongside your flower bed. Sit flat with both feet outstretched but together. Now weed and work yourself down the row in a sit-down walk, which is achieved by pushing one hip, arm and heel at the same time. Keep your body tight to the mat and the back of your hips really bumping.

Final tidying up around the garden and terrace can be body firming, too, if occasionally you stoop over in a simulated back-bend for books, papers and yarn baskets left lying around. This kind of muscular tug helps to tighten a slack tummy.

NEEDLE IN HIS HEART—Five-month-old Dickie Morse had been breathing too heavily for either his or his parents' comfort. They brought him to a Los Angeles hospital for a check-up. An X-ray, right, showed Dickie had a half-inch sliver of needle in his heart. A surgeon at the hospital performed the delicate operation, removing the piece of steel from the baby's heart muscle. Doctors say Dickie probably rolled over on a needle carelessly left in his crib. A piece stuck in him and in a few days worked itself to his heart. He's okay now, and all set to go home to San Diego.

There now are more wolves in Northern Minnesota than in any other district of the United States.

Gymnasts and Clowns — Lend Style Gear

PARIS—(NEA)—Bathing suit fashions owe their inspiration to clowns' costumes, sarongs and exercise suits.

An "exercise suit" (left) glorified by Pierre Balmain, makes a sensation of a hip-length fringed sweater, shorts, socks and cap of red and white striped jersey.

Harlequin's gay clown suit inspired the bold cotton print which Jean Desses uses to make a swim suit and matching sun shade (above) topped by a white pique beach coat.

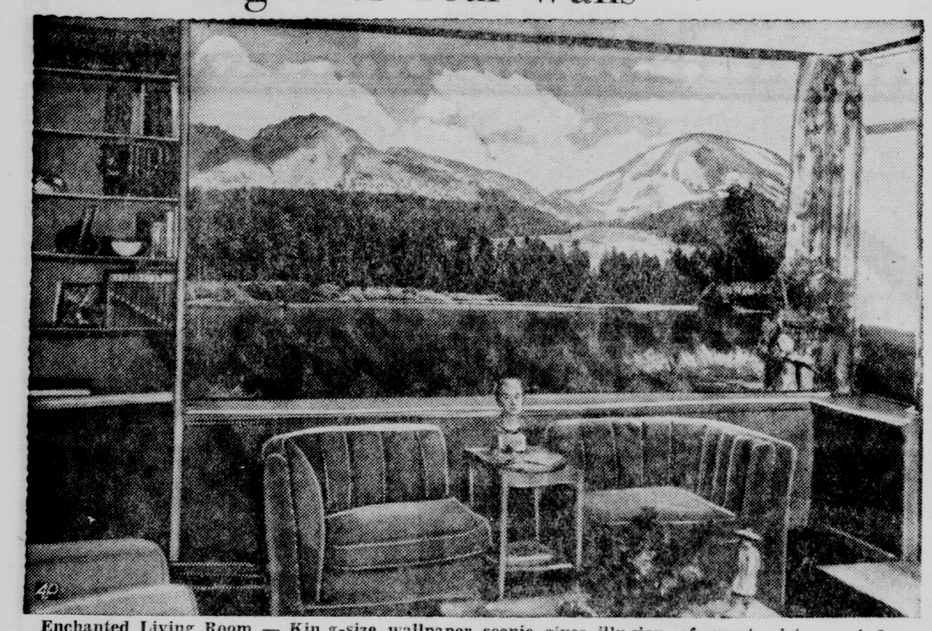
Mural Magic for Your Walls



Enchanted Living Room — King-size wallpaper scenic gives illusion of great picture window overlooking placid mountain lake. Enlargements are achieved by new process which produces 6 feet, 6 inches by 15 feet black-and-white or sepia toned murals. A California firm produces them for less than $30.

By Jack Quigg
AP Newsfeatures

LOS ANGELES—If you would like to change a wall in your home into a picturesque seascape or a view of a placid mountain lake, now is your chance. A new process by which ordinary scenic photos are reproduced — king size — on wallpaper permits you to gaze at your favorite scenic spot to your heart's content.

A California firm recently began producing such enlargements by a special printing process. In place on a wall, each mural measures 6 ft, 6 in. by 15 feet. Its six 40 by 60 inch component panels are applied with paste like any wallpaper. By using only the center panels, the size of the picture may be reduced to fit almost any wall.

The murals, which are washable, are manufactured in black and white or sepia tones. Treated so as to appear three dimensional, they have the same effect as an added window — pushing the walls back and enlarging the room.

Thus far, the manufacturers have made plates for three murals, a Carmel, Calif., seascape and shots of Reflection lake in Mt. Lassen National Park and Jackson lake in the Grand Tetons.

They plan eventually to have a library of several hundred prints.

Peter C. Goldsmith, a Los Angeles advertising man, began research on printing processes a year ago. He settled on a method by which a standard four by five inch photographic negative is enlarged to 120 square feet. His first step is to make a 20 by 30 inch print. This is retouched, photographed and reproduced on a 40 by 60 printing plate. Six of these make a complete mural.

Corner Druggist Built a Fortune on Your Sunburn

By Rene J. Cappon

BALTIMORE, Md., July 9—(AP)—A one-time corner druggist turned a vanishing cream experiment in a coffee pot into $41,000,000 in sales, with an assist from sunburn.

Dr. George Avery Bunting started his business venture at a time when most men think of easing up. He now is a spry 79.

He figures his son, George Lloyd Bunting, can run Noxzema Chemical Co., for the next 35 years. He promoted him to the presidency from his post as vice president and general manager. The elder Bunting took a position as chairman of the Board of Directors as a climax to his own 35 years of work in the company.

The changes went into effect at the recent dedication of a new plant building. The ceremonies marked the 35th anniversary of the discovery of noxz-ema, the medicated skin preparation the firm markets (to the tune of some $41,000,000 in net sales since its founding).

Success Lauded

Distinguished speakers laded Bunting's success story as a symbol to the vitality of free enterprise.

Dr. Bunting, a pharmacist, was nearly 50 and not far from broke when he launched his business in a coffee pot in the backroom laboratory of his drug store.

He had a tough time persuading friends to back the venture—but those who did still praise the day they shelled out.

For if you had put $1,000 into the Noxzema company as recently as 1923, and held the ten shares of stock, the sum would have purchased, your holding now would be worth $17,600. And in the intervening 17 years you'd have pocketed $18,990 in cash dividends.

You're not doing badly if you can parlay $1,000 into $36,590 by investment in a business that's still expanding.

Dr. Bunting came to Baltimore from his native Bishopville, Md., some 40 years ago, after deciding he'd never get rich as a school teacher.

Experimented With Creams

After he bought the drug store he had clerked in (wage: $4 weekly), it seemed he'd hardly get rich as a druggist, either. But he kept his eyes on the manufacturing end of the business and began experimenting with vanishing creams.

His first manufacturing project never got underway. Dr. Bunting had bought the formula for a liquid dental preparation. Then the first toothpastes hit the market. Demand for liquid preparations approached zero.

By 1914, Dr. Bunting had veered on a new tack, looking for a greaseless sunburn cream. He mixed oil of cloves and the then newly-popular vanishing creams.

"I remember my mother using oil of cloves for toothaches, and I figured if I could anesthetize the sunburned never endings long enough, nature would come along and I would get the credit," Dr. Bunting recalls.

Sold Moderate Quantities

He sold moderate quantities of the stuff, which he called "Bunting's Sunburn Cream" until a customer reported to him the concoction had cured his eczema—"knocked it right out."

Noxzema was born that day.

Dr. Bunting induced several physicians to try it. Three years later, in 1917, he formed the corporation. And as late as 1921, the firm's staff consisted of three—the founder, Mrs. E. C. Buck,, and Raymond B. Yingling.

They are still with Noxzema company, and obviously better than well-to-do. Mrs. Buck, for many years secretary-treasurer, now is secretary and a director. Yingling is vice president and sales manager. He also is a director.

Got Over the Hump

Dr. Bunting's presidential salary up to about 1925 was $50 a week. Though the figure is not made public, he's been doing consideraly better than that in more recent years.

By 1925, the company got over the hump. Sales that year, which marked the dividing line, ran to $100,000. By 1939, the annual gross was about $1,400,000, and passed the $4,000,000 mark in 1947. Last year's gross was $4,300,000 and net profit, after taxes, $449,000.

Meantime as the erstwhile sunburn remedy expanded in sales, it also expanded in use. During the last war, the services used Noxzema for tired feet, insect bites. jungle skin, itching scalps and shaving.

Monroe Doctrine Extension

Is Proposed by Two GOP Senators As Alternative to Atlantic Treaty

WASHINGTON, July 14—(AP)—Republican Senators Taft of Ohio and Flanders of Vermont proposed today extending the Monroe Doctrine to western Europe as an alternative to the North Atlantic treaty.

Their idea would be to leave the United States as the sole judge of what steps to take in the event of an aggressive move against any western European nation.

A resolution calling upon President Truman to extend the Monroe Doctrine to western Europe was offered by Flanders for himself and Taft during Senate debate on the 12-nation North Atlantic pact.

"This is a unilateral action we can control," Flanders told reporters.

Both Taft and Flanders have announced their opposition to the Atlantic Pact. It would bind each of the 12 signers to consider an attack against any one of them as an attack on all.

Designed As Protection

The Monroe Doctrine, as proclaimed by President Monroe in 1823, was designed to protect western hemisphere nations from European designs.

Flanders said he sees danger in this country sending "vast masses of arms" to western Europe.

"There is danger some of the governments might become Communist-controlled," he said.

Flanders called extension of the Monroe Doctrine to western Europe a preferable alternative to the North Atlantic pact and arms for Europe.

The Taft-Flanders resolution was introduced after Democratic leaders tried to get an agreement for a Senate vote Saturday on the pact. Senator Watkins (R-Utah) blocked it. He said he would not agree to a vote before Wednesday.

To Push For Vote

Democratic Leader Lucas of Illinois then announced he will keep the Senate in session tomorrow night and probably Saturday to push toward a vote early next week.

Lucas had asked that the Senate agree unanimously to a vote Saturday at 5 p.m.

But Watkins declared the vote on such an important issue should go over until next week.

Then Lucas tried to get consent to a vote either Monday or Tuesday.

"If you change it to Wednesday," Watkins said, "then I'll agree."

Lucas did not take him up on that. One senator's objection can block an agreement for a vote.

Gurney For Pact

However, the Senate might get to vote before Wednesday. If everybody else got to the point where they were ready to vote, Watkins could block a vote only by holding the floor and talking.

Senator Gurney (R-SD) came out with a statement endorsing the pact.

"This pact gives promise of being effective in preserving peace because it is solidly anchored in a realistic evaluation of the facts of life in the world today," Gurney said.

At present, the chief point of argument about the pact is over whether it carries a moral or legal obligation for this country to supply arms to Europe.

Shipment Withheld

WASHINGTON, July 14.—(AP)—Russia withheld manganese and chrome shipments to the U. S. in May for the second consecutive month, the census bureau reported today.

Both metals, essential in turning out high grade steel, are considered so vital by the government that it buys them for stockpiling against a war emergency.

Helped Woman, Then is Killed

ST. LOUIS, July 14.—(AP)—Herman Henrichs, 29, formerly of Risco, Mo., defended a woman against her husband in a bar-room row last night and was stabbed to death.

Police were looking for the husband today. His wife fled with him.

Harry Oliver, a porter in the tavern, told it this way:

The couple had been drinking in a booth, and Henrich at the bar. The husband said something insulting to his wife and grobbed her arm roughly. Henrichs turned and said "You can't talk to anyone that way," missed with a beer bottle and the fight was on.

Henrichs was a student at a school of mechanical trades.

FORT SMITH, Ark., July 14.—(AP)—The partly-clad body of a 15-year-old farmer's daughter was found this morning at Vine Prairie in Crawford county.

Sheriff Lalen C. Moore identified the girl as Thelma Ruth Bohan. He said her body was bruised and apparently had been dragged about 25 feet and left beside U. S. Highway 64 near the school at Bine Prairie. It is between Mulberry and Alma.

Moore said two boys who were seen with the girl last night had been detained for questioning. The girl lived about two and one-half miles from Vine Prairie.

Mrs. Daisy Ocker, coroner, has impaneled a jury to conduct an inquest.

Church-State Conflict Lines Tighten

Pope Issues New Decree of Excommunication

By the Associated Press

The lines tightened today in the bitter church-state conflict in eastern Europe. Pope Pius XII issued a new decree of excommunication against all Roman Catholics who embrace Communism.

The official Communist press in Czechoslovakia ignored it but Prague reports indicated the Communists would use the Vatican order for propaganda purposes. The government is expected to take the line that the Vatican is trying to cut off the people from their government.

The minister of education in Czechoslovakia has already issued an ordinance declaring illegal excommunications and other penalties imposed by the Catholic hierarchy "for political and not religious reasons."

The government reported the priests supporting the government sponsored Catholic action were staging sit-down strikes and refusing to surrender their parishes.

Bitter in Poland

The war between church and state became hotter in Catholic Poland too. The official Polish press blamed the Roman Catholic hierarchy for encouraging the faithful to crowd into the eastern Polish city of Lublin to witness a "weeping virgin" portrait. The authorities said one woman was killed and 19 other persons were injured in the stampede.

Government officials said persons spreading rumors about the reported miracle would be prosecuted. The Communist-led Polish government, like its counterparts in eastern Europe, is conducting a bitter fight against church authority.

More London dock workers left their jobs today despite declarations from prime minister Clement Atlee that the 18-day old strike is sapping the strength and life of the nation. The government, under emergency regulations approved by parliament, poured 4,500 soldiers and sailors into the docking area to unload ships. Nearly 14,000 men are now idle. The government says the strike is Communist inspired.

The Russians eased their road traffic regulations in Germany. For a while it looked as if the Russians were reimposing a blockade of Berlin-bound trucks. But an American 60-truck convoy passed a checkpoint in a minute today. Now the green light is showing and normal traffic is flowing.

But while Russian relations seemed smoothed in the west, Washington observers said there are growing signs of increased friction with Russia in Asia. These observers said Moscow appears to be transferring its cold war tactics from Germany to Japan. They see trouble ahead for Allied supreme commander Gen. Douglas MacArthur.

Holiday in Paris Today

PARIS, July 14.—(AP)—Paris was on holiday today, celebrating the 160th anniversary of the fall of the bastile and sleeping off the effects on an all-night street-dancing party.

The city government sponsored street dances in seven different parts of the city last night with complete orchestras. In almost every neighborhood, however, a one, two or three-piece band could be found playing for revelers.

Today the traditional military parade will move up the Champs Elysee to the Arc De Triomphe. The opera and other state-subsidized theaters will give free matinees. Tonight all fountains will be playing despite a shortage of water and the city's famous monuments will be lighted.

Monkey Invades Laundry

SAN DIEGO, Cal., July 14.—(AP)—A runaway monkey invaded a self-help laundry here.

Seventeen women customers scattered with shrill screams.

The monkey jumped into the open door of one of the electric washers, which automatically started to work on him.

Willie—that's the monkey—was rescued without damage by his owner. Richard V. Heitman, and a humane society man who had been on his trail.

Man's Sight Returns After Having Been Blind 18 Years

HOPKINTON, Mass., July 14.—(AP)—How does the world seem to a man who sees again after 18 years?

"Everything looks so rich and bright," said 63-year-old Edward R. Ray. "Faces . . . flowers—even the sky on a gray day"

His sight came back more than a week ago—"in a blinding flash."

The first thing he saw was his brother-in-law's face.

It looked wonderful—"wrinkles and all."

Then he was able to see his wife again.

She hadn't changed at all, he said. His daughter, now grown up and married, was "even better-looking than they told me."

But the greatest surprise were his two grandchildren, Joan, 6, and Edward, 3. Both were entirely different from the picture in his mind's eye

"From their voices I had pictured Joan as having a heart-shaped face. It's as round as a moon. Ed is real chubby instead of wiry."

Ray continued treatments for his blindness, although seven years ago doctors told him he probably never would see again

There is only one drawback to the miracle of returned sight. "I just can't seem to judge dictances," he said But he expects that to clean up soon—like his vision.

Head MRCA And Auxiliary

Streamliner With The New 'Low Look'

CHICAGO, July 14 —(AP)— A streamliner with a "low look," the newest thing in the railroad industry, will be on display at the Chicago Railroad fair Saturday.

Visitors will have a chance to inspect the "Talgo," the American Car and Foundry company's train that literally hugs the rails.

The Talgo has a locomotive two feet longer than a standard diesel-electric. Its coaches are four feet lower than present day equipment. Interior space, say company officials, suffers no loss in the transformation.

You don't need a porter's helping hand to step down off the Talgo. It's a single, easy step. Floors of the Talgo are only 18 inches above the head of the rail as compared with 51 inches for standard railroad cars.

Each Talgo coach is supported by two wheels at the rear, the forward end being carried by the unit ahead. All equipment for air conditioning and brakes, which is ordinarily slung under the car, is carried in a separate equipment unit where it is more easily accessible.

The low gravity design and all-aluminum construction result in an overall weight reduction of 75 per cent.

The Talgo is the first of three such trains being built by the A.C.F. at its Wilmington, Del., plant.

Airlines Seek Feeder Lines

KANSAS CITY, July 14.—(AP)—Mid-Continent Airlines, Inc., of Kansas City, yesterday filed application with the civil aeronautics board in Washington for extensive feeder air routes in nine midwestern states.

J. W. Miller, president of the air carrier, said the application was made in event the CAB disapproves his company's proposal to acquire the 4,000 route mile structure of Parks Air Lines, Inc., East St. Louis, Ill., which now is awaiting action of the board.

Among the feeder routes which Mid-Continent seeks to operate under the contingent application includes:

Kansas City to Tulsa via the intermediate points of Topeka, Emporia, Chanute and Coffeyville, Kas. ,and Bartlesville, Okla.

House Passes Telephone Bill

WASHINGTON, July 14.—(AP)—Legislation designed to make modern telephone service available to more than half the nation's farm homes went to the senate today with the overwhelming backing of the house.

It was passed by the house yesterday by a vote of 282 to 109. Most of the opposition came from city members resentful over lack of support from farm state congressmen for the administration's housing bill.

The leislation would allow the rural electrification administration to operate in the telephone field in the same manner that it now operates in the field of rural electricity. subject to approval by state regulatory bodies

The REA could make loans to telephone companies, or to cooperatives formed to provide telephone service, with existin companies having priority for the first six months.

The loans would bear two per cent interest and could be paid off over a period as long as 35 years.

Attempts to raise the interest rates and to guarantee that no loans are made in areas already served by telephone companies were defeated.

Many People In Hawaii Feel Long Tieup

Waterfront Strike Has Cut Into Life Of Average Islander

By Leif Erickson

HONOLULU, July 14—(AP)—The 75-day waterfront strike has cut into the everyday life of the average islander out here. But not as much as you'd think.

There are cases like the paper salesman — with no paper to sell. He's driving a truck. And eating poi, instead of potatoes.

Or there's Frank May. He's a white collar man at Lewers and Cooke, Hawaii's biggest building materials firm which has made two 10 percent pay cuts. He's told his wife she has to give up the woman who ironed half a day each week. The yard man who worked over the lawn twice a month has to go, too.

Hardly Feel The Pinch

But many people hardly feel the pinch from the long tieup. There's a big segment of federal civil service employes and workers paid by mainland firms. And, of course, the army, navy and air force people. Their pay keeps coming in.

Food relief cargoes provide the staples — meat, potatoes, milk, eggs, butter — and nearly any trimming you can think of If you're lucky enough not to have had a couple of pay cuts or lost your job, you can eat and live in good style.

Just the same, the people are settling down for a long, hard pull. The striking CIO stevedores and the seven struck stevedoring firms are as far apart now as they were on May 1 when it all started. The longshoremen want 32 cents an hour more than the $1.40 they were getting. The employers withdrew an offer of 12 cents.

The paper salesman said a 15 per cent pay cut gave him a taste for poi. "Poi's cheaper than potatoes — and more vitamins," he said.

Poi is a native Hawaiian dish. It's made from Taro root flour and is supposed to be more nutritious than anything. But the first taste is like library paste.

Low Flying Wrecked Plane

LOS ANGELES, July 14.—(AP)—Civil aeronautics board officials say that low flying and not a fight caused the crash and explosion of a non-scheduled airliner which cost 35 lives and injuries to 14.

Stewardess Charlotte Grenander, 23, told authorities yesterday that the scrap aboard the Standard Airlines' twin-engine C-46 Commando was only a one-punch affair. She said it occurred an hour before the crash in the rugged Santa Susana mountains 30 miles north of downtown Los Angeles Tuesday.

She named Frank Conway, Albany, N. Y., who was killed, as the man who struck his seatmate. Miss Grenander added that there was no trouble after the pilot, Capt. Roy G. White, came back and talked to Conway.

James N. Peyton, regional cab chief, said the aircraft was on course for an instrument approach landing at Lockhead air terminal, Burbank, but was 2000 feet too low. He said a smashed altimeter registered 1940 feet.

Peyton added that low fog may have obscured the pilot's vision, although fog was not believed to have beeen abnormally heavy.

Insane Killer Spends Night Atop a Tower

Lays Down New Regulation For Voluntary Descent

LIMA, O., July 14—(AP)—Tower-sitting Raymond Jutila, the insane killer who tried to escape and ended 130 feet in the air atop a water tower, showed signs at noon today of coming down to earth.

Cold and sleepy after a night on the tower at Lima state hospital, Jutila laid down a new regulation for his voluntary descent:

"Have a uniformed Western Union messenger deliver me a telegram from Johnson (Police Chief William Johnson of Warren, O.) and I'll come down," the haggard lifer shouted.

Quickly authorities planned a telegram and sent for a uniformed messenger.

They said they thought Jutila meant it this time. The Warren, O., slayer complained of a headache.

Complained of Thirst

He complained, too, of thirst—although he clung within inches of the criminal insane hospital's water supply.

Several times since he scampered up the tower yesterday at 9:30 a. m. Jutila has promised to come down if certain conditions were met. Then, he has changed his mind.

If the telegram gag failed to work, said officials, they will return to their patient game of waiting.

"We'll wait him out," Dr. R. E. Bushong, hospital superintendent said.

The 35-year-old demented slayer shouted answers to the questions of guards. Asked how he felt after a night on his perch, Jutila admitted "It was a little cold."

"Cold and Hungry"

Four times during the night Jutila ventured down to the lowest crossbeam of the tower—about 30 feet above the ground. He talked briefly with the guards and newsmen and said he was "cold and hungry."

Each time, however, he quickly climbed back to the top

Promises of sizzling steaks and sweet-laden desserts failed to bring Jutila below the 30-foot level.

"I'll stay up here two weeks if I have to," he defiantly replied to the pleading of guards.

Jutila has been demanding that officials furnish "protection for my family from some released convicts." He did not identify the convicts.

The slayer also wanted guards to call Police Chief William Johnson of Warren, O. Jutila was sentenced from Warren Dec. 24, 1935, for the rape-slaying of Mrs. Marie Tobin, 25.

Jutila refused to say why he wanted to talk to Johnson.

Name Memorial After Hawes

ST. LOUIS, July 14.—(AP)—As a memorial to the late U. S. Senator Harry B. Hawes, a tract of land on his beloved current river in Southeast Missouri will be named for him.

He died two years ago. As he requested, his ashes were strewn over the river. He was a strong advocate of fish and game conservation.

A group of his friends started the move for a memorial tract, and Gale Johnson, president of the Mercantile-Commerce Bank and Trust Co., said the U. S. Forestry Service approved the project. The location has not yet been specified.

Kem to Oppose Atlantic Pact

WASHINGTON, July 14 —(AP)— Senator Kem (R-Mo) said today he expects to take the senate floor Friday to oppose the Atlantic Pact.

He believes. he said, that the pact by-passes the United Nations and returns "to the old method of military alliances and power politics."

He told a reporter he believes the pact is a commitment of this and future generations to fight it necessary to maintain boundaries of nations where the people may not be willing to defend themselves.

Also, he added, the arms program "which goes with the treaty" may cost Americans large sums for military equipment.

Ir event of war, some of this equipment might be used against this country, he declared.

Children Wave Toy Guns; But Really do Rob

ELMIRA, N. Y., July 14.—(AP)—Clerks in a department store office just laughed when two 12-year-old boys and an 11-year old girl waved toy pictols at them and announced a stickup.

But $465.95 the children had hidden in a field wasn't play money. Police quoted the kids as saying they took most of it from an open safe after the chuckling clerks had resumed typing and filing.

The clerks hadn't missed the money.

Police said the youngsters, picked up for questioning yesterday about another theft, led them to the field, where the money was found in three wallets.

Authorities held the trio as juvenile delinquents.

Favorable Response To Speech

White House States Letters Received Are Six to One on A Friendly Vein

By Marvin L. Arrowsmith

WASHINGTON, July 14 —(AP)— President Truman's sharp attack on "selfish interests urging drastic cuts" in federal spending collided today with both Democratic and Republican criticism in Congress.

So did his assertion that many people would like to have a depression "for political reasons."

On the other hand, Senator Pepper (D-Fla) called Mr. Truman's arguments "reasonable commonsense and full of practical justification."

The president spoke out last night in telling the nation about his new program designed to expand production and avert a more serious business slump. He went on both the radio and television.

"We shall have to be sure," the president said, "that the selfish interests do not drive us into the ditch, as they have done before."

WASHINGTON, July 14.—(AP)—The White House reported favorable response today to President Truman's speech last night opposing big cuts in government expenditure lest they increase unemployment.

Presidential Press Secretary Charles K. Ross told reporters approximately 50 telegrams have been received and that they were "plainly favorable" to the President's talk.

"They were about six to one in a friendly vein and commendatory," Ross said.

Not in Depression

As he did in the economic report he sent to Congress last Monday, Mr. Truman said: "We are not in a depression." Many people who talk of a depression, he said, would like to have one "for political reasons."

But he added that the increase in the number of people out of work "is something to worry about, and something that must be cured."

The president again lit into the Republican-ruled 80th Congress of 1947-48 for cutting income taxes. He criticized it, too, for refusing to enact the anti-inflation program he wanted then but now has abandoned because, he said, of changed conditions.

He called those policies blunders on the part of the 80th Congress, and he said "selfish interests" were to blame. Then he added:

"Now these same selfish interests are urging us to commit a third great blunder. They are now urging drastic cuts in government expenditures — cuts which would fall hardest on those expenditures which are most important to our domestic economy."

Reference to Move in Congress

That was an obvious reference to the move in Congress to trim federal spending. In the Senate, for example, more than 60 Senators — Democrats and Republicans — have signed a petition urging action on a resolution directing the president to cut appropriations for the current fiscal year by from five to ten percent.

Mr. Truman explained that he is dropping his request for a $4,000,000,000 tax increase because he does not want to "injure the economic health of the country." Indicating the alternative is red ink spending, he added:

"You cannot achieve a surplus in the government budget when you have a declining national economy. . . . If we follow the wrong budget policy at this time and slash our expenditures, we will decrease employment, cut down investment, weaken our defenses and injure our efforts for peace."

Other Contemplated Cuts

Senator McClellan (D-Ark) chief sponsor of the economy resolution, commented that there are certain contemplated expenditures for public works "that would of course stimulate our economy," but he added:

"There are other savings that can and should be made, and it is the duty of the president and the Congress jointly to bring about such economies."

Republicans let loose with hot criticism. Said House minority leader Martin of Massachusetts:

"Every day the Democratic 81st Congress is in session makes the Republican 80th Congress look better. The president may be fooling himself, but he isn't fooling many other people."

Increase Cherry Tree Yield

EAST LANSING. Mich.—(AP)—Yields from cherry trees have been increased 100 per cent in experiments at Michigan state college. It was done by mulching the trees with straw or legume hay, in tests by Dr. A. L. Kenworthy, norticulturist. The increase came on trees receiving only mulch and no fertilizer, as compared with trees which received complete fertilizer but no mulch.

Sedalian Tells of His First And Last Experience at Wake

"I'm not afraid of dead people, of course," said a man recently, "but somehow they always give me a queer feeling." Then he recalled his first experience of sitting up with a corpse when he was just a youth. It seems as though it fell to his lot to sit up with a dead man and his companions for the night were two older women. Getting as far as possible from the casket he had gone into the kitchen and was reading the paper. It was before the day when practically every house was wired for electricity and so the young man sat in the kitchen reading by a coal oil lamp. Then he dozed, a sudden little gust of wind came up, breezed through the back door and blew the light out. The boy dozed in the dark. Then suddenly he was awakened by a woman's hand on his shoulder.

"Young man," said, a voice, "Did you blow that light out."

Frightened

The youth woke up startled and frightened.

"No Mam," he said a little shakily, and it was a real effort to try to relight the lamp. Finally he got it lighted and saw that it was not a ghost that had awakened him but one of the women.

He sat there after she had gone back into the front room still wiping the cold sweat from his brow.

A little later in came the other woman.

"I think the corpse is turning," she said, "I wish you would come in here and see what you think."

That was too much. The boy sat glued to the chair. "I couldn't have moved if my life had depended on it," he said. He could just picture the man coming to life again and sitting up in the casket.

A Tactful Woman

The woman saw the scared expression on his face and knew what he was thinking. She quickly reassured him by ch. ging her first statement. "I think he is turning black," she said. But the boy still couldn't move. It took quite a little time before he could get himself off the chair and follow the woman into the front room.

"I stood as far back as possible," the man said. "And told her the dead man looked all right to me. And that" he added, "Was not only my first experience of sitting up with the dead—but it was my last."

Renshaw, northwest of Clarksburg, and relatives in Tipton. Mrs. Kerr remained for an indefinite stay with her parents, as she has been in the hospital and quite ill with arthritis. She is improving now, and her physician advises her to be out in the country.

Mr. and Mrs. Lester Vaughan and little son Eddie Ray moved from the Floyd Snodgrass farm north of Clarksburg, last Wednesday, to the Clarksburg junction filling station, which they purchased from Mr. and Mrs. Woodrow Carpenter.

The Cross Lane club met Wednesday, July 6th, with Mrs. William Arnold, as hostess at her home outside of Clarksburg limits. There were ten members, five visitors and eight children present. The ladies broke beans for Mrs. Arnold to can next day, and hemmed some tea towels. The secret pals names were revealed that day, and names were drawn again for the coming year. A lovely covered dish luncheon was served at the noon hour.

Mrs. Golder Martin and Shirley Welch spent the day in Columbia, Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Golden Milburn left Thursday for Huntsville, where they will visit their son-in-law and daughter, the Rev. and Mrs. Woodrow Moore and two sons. From there they will go to visit their son in Iowa. Mr. Milburn is working at the Jefferson City state prison and is now on vacation.

Recent guests in the home of Mr. and W. G. Pennington, in Clarksburg, were relatives, Mr. and Mrs. Guy Compton, Mr. and Mrs. Dick Over and daughter, Roberta, and Mrs. Pearl McBroom, all of St. Louis, and Mr. and Mrs. Claud Pennington and three children from Tennessee.

Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Martin and children, Mary Ellen and Paul, were guests Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. William Boehlen and son, Kenneth, of Brush Creek community. They were to take Mrs. Martin's grandmother, Mrs. Delzetta Simmers, to her home there, after spending two weeks visiting in the Martin home. Additional guests were Mrs. Raymnd Baker and son, Loyd, of Clarksburg, Mr. and Mrs. John Toler and son Herbert, and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Felger, of Brush Creek community.

Mrs. Dewey Yarnell had among her several visitors over and during the fourth of July holidays, her brother Herbert Kneisley, of Rich Grove, Calif. He has been teaching a number of years in the Rich Grove school. He comes here each summer and makes an extended visit with his mother, Mrs. George Kneisley, and with his sisters and brothers. His mother is in somewhat poor health, and greatly welcomes the visit of her son. Mrs. Yarnell's husband and sons Dewey Jr. and Jerry Dean, who are working on the Trans-Continental trucks, enjoyed the holidays at home.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Allee, of Kansas City, were week-end guests of his mother, Mrs. Myrtle Allee.

Mr. and Mrs. Hartley Sappington left Saturday for Kansas City, where they will be accompanied by Mrs. Sappington's sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Aubrey Vansandt and will go on their vacations to Minnesota to enjoy fishing and out door sports.

A family ice cream social was enjoyed Saturday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fordyce Dooley in Clarksburg. The D. V. B. S. which has been in progress the past two weeks at Clarksburg Baptist church, conducted by the pastor, Reverend Dameron, assisted by a number of the local church members, as teachers and helpers, closed Friday afternoon. There was an enrollment of sixey, with something near that number as an average attendance. The school was well attended and seems to have been a profitable two weeks spent. The closing program was rendered Sunday evening at the church, instead of the regular evening church service.

Mrs. Ethel Yoacum, of Otterville, spent Sunday in Clarksburg at her home here.

A revival meeting is beginning Monday evening at Mt. Pleasant church north of Clarksburg, where Reverend Dameron is pastor. Reverend Hugh Trotter will bring the messages each evening.

For Long Term Salvation Plan For Great Britain

By J. M. Roberts, Jr.
AP Foreign Affairs Analyst

Prime Minister Attlee, linking Britain's dollar crisis to the whole problem of world stability and peace, says the commonwealth must also seek a foundation for long term salvation.

Lying behind his words is a situation which involves a great deal more than any postwar crisis.

Britain is not in trouble merely because of wartime drains, because of the liquidation of her overseas investments, or of the cold war. The cold war itself is merely a manifestation, caused by Russia's attempt to make capital of a revolutionary situation in the world.

More and more it seems evident that Britain is in for a tremendous and unhappy readjustment. That something about her economic position is basically wrong.

By accident, or because of the coordination of her people's skill which itself might be termed an accident of her history, Britain pioneered some 200 years ago in what we have come to call the industrial revolution. By her inventiveness, particularly in the fields of iron and textile manufacturer, she became the processor for a very large part of the world's raw materials. To get these raw materials she developed the world's greatest merchant fleet, evolved a vast colonial system, and protected it with the world's greatest navy. The merchant fleet became an industry in itself, carrying not only for England but for all others. As the middleway between the sources of raw materials and the consumer, Britain likewise became the world's banker. The people of a small island controlled a vast proportion of the world.

No Longer Advantage

The first textile and steel mills built in France and America marked the beginning of a new day—a day which has now come to twilight, in which Britain no longer holds the advantages of her head start in industralization.

For 50 years and longer, with only coal and the skill and experience of her people to depend on, she has been in competition with areas which have far more. In the last few years, in addition, she has run up against a growing nationalism and a protective economic awakening in what once was her empire. The producers of raw materials seek the benefits of doing their own processing.

It seems inevitable that this development should increase the cost of raw materials to Britain while at the same time decreasing her possible markets, making her position more and more uneconomic.

For a long time she fought this trend through investment in the new industrial fields abroad, thus obtaining income with which to buy her food. She had to liquidate these invesements to pay for war purchases over and above lend-lease India, once great source of British wealth, is now a creditor. Once a great market, it is now pushing industrialization. India is, to Britain, a blazing sign of changing times.

In more than 2,000 years of history the British have met and adjusted themselves to many changes. There is more than sentiment behind their confidence that there'll always be an England. But efforts to tell what will come out this time are futile.

Britain will hardly be a Cuba, with a one-crop economy—in this case, coal. She cannot support her population as a Switzerland, depending almost solely on products of great precision, although that remains one of her great fortes.

Nor will the mere solution of a dollar crisis, or any one particular crisis, solve the economic fate of Britain.

We Learned About People — From YOU!

We've been operating drug stores for a long time — more than 26 years, to be exact — and during that time we've learned a great deal about people. For instance, they like having a drug store close at hand, for quick, easy shopping They like the dependability of nationally known, established products. And especially do they like the little courtesies shown them by friendly, well-trained employess.

In short, people like the convenience, the quality, and the service at Crown.

Is There Such a Servant?

REDDY KILOWATT, your electric servant, who works for you through Missouri Public Service has been answering ads like these in the area we serve for a good many years.

Reddy is very self-sustaining. You don't have to board him or find him a place to sleep. He lives in the wires behind the walls. And when he isn't working he's standing sentry so as to be able to comply immediately with your slightest wish whenever you flick a switch, or when the automatic watchmen on your various appliances flick the switch for you.

The best part of all is that Reddy still works for less than pre-war wages and his salary scale is arranged so that the more you give him to do the less the cost becomes to you for each job done.

Your friends and neighbors are Reddy's best boosters and you may obtain ideas from many of them of how they have utilized his services economically for better and more pleasureable living.

Golfers Meet in $16,000 Tourney

PITTSBURGH, July 14—(AP)—PGA champ Sam Snead and open titleholder Gary Middlecoff resume their golfing war today, leading the field of 156 pros and amateurs teeing off in the $16,000 Dapper Dam tournament.

Middlecoff, currently holding a slight lead over Snead in the battle for money winning honors, topped the shotmaker from White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., by one stroke in the recent Reading, Pa., tourney.

The Dapper Dam — a 72-hole four-day competition over the rolling Alcoma Country club course — also is expected to play a major rôle in the selection of the two remaining members of the U. S. Ryder cup team.

Vic Ghezzi, defending Dapper Dam champion from Deal, N. J., is one of the Ryder cup aspirants entered here. Others are Bob Hamilton of Landover, Md.; Johnny Bulla of Pittsburgh and Dick Metz of Virginia Beach, Va. and Arkansas City, Kas.

Ryder Cup team members are selected on a point basis as a result of competitive performance.

Top favorites in the 1949 Dapper Dam include Ghezzi, Snead, Middlecoff and Lloyd Mangrum, the Chicago iron master.

The pro winner will pocket $2,500 with district pros competing for $1,000 on the side. Profits go to charity.

St. Joseph pushed over two runs in the eighth inning at Muskogee last night to win 3-2. The teams traded home runs in the seventh. Cardinal pitcher Bob Gregory homered for St. Joseph and in the last half of the inning Dudley Carson hit his 12th circuit blow of the year.

Indianapolis Beats K.C. Blues

By The Associated Press

Jim Walsh pitched Indianapolis back into a virtual first place tie with St. Paul last night as he went 11 innings to best Kansas City 5 to 2, in the only American Association game played.

The former Pittsburgh Pirate righthander, who won four and lost two last year with Indianapolis, marked up his 13th victory against two defeats for the season. Walsh and Phil Haugstad, St. Paul's 25-year-old righthander, are tied for the AA pitching leadership.

Kansas City scored a run in the eighth inning to knot the count at 2-all. In the top of the 11th the Indians pushed across three markers to cop the decision. A double by Bob Ganss and pinch-hitter Kalin's two-run single gave the Indians the game.

Bus Walker Allows Only Two Hits As Sedalia Gets 16

The Sedalia Athletics overpowered the Lee's Summit Red Sox 17 to 0 at Liberty Park, Wednesday evening, to register their 14th victory in 18 games this season.

Bus Walker on the hill for Sedalia turned in a sparkling performance, and had a no-hitter going into the ninth inning. He was backed up by a flawless defense in the field, as the Athletics played errorless ball. Walker also had 17 strikeouts, allowed only two hits, and issued five passes. McMackin was the catcher.

Sedalia was also strong in the hitting department, collecting 16 base blows and taking advantage of a total of nine walks. Taylor, the third baseman, was the leading hitter of the evening with four for six. Thompson, right field, had three for five, including a double, and Livengood, first base, had three for six. The Athletics had complete control of the game, and definitely put it on ice in the fourth inning with eight runs, after 13 men had batted during the inning.

Two Hits In Ninth

The Red Sox' lone hits came in the ninth, With none out, J. Hook, second base,, hit a slow roller to the shortstop which he beat out for an infield hit, the only solid hit of the game.

Brummett was the Red Sox starter, but was relieved in the fifth by J. Hook, who in turn was relieved by Dykes in the seventh. Donnington worked behind the plate.

J. Hook turned in the fielding play of the game in the first inning. Livengood hit a looper over second base, and Hook ran back for it and collided hard with the right fielder, who was also racing for the ball. Hook held it, although both players were shaken up for a few minutes after they ran together.

The score by innings:

MacArthur Approves World Series in Tokyo

ST. LOUIS, July 14—(AP)—Gen. Douglas MacArthur has approved a 1950 world series in Tokyo for non-professional teams under the National Baseball Congress.

J. B. Taylor Spink, publisher of the Sporting News and global commissioner for the congress, said he had received word of MacArthur's action from Giles C. Stedman of San Francisco, Far Eastern commissioner for the Baseball Congress.

Spink said the winner of the North American series in September, 1950, will represent the western hemisphere at Tokyo against the championship team of the Far East.

This will be determined by playoffs between Korea, the Philippines, Japan and China, Spink explained.

The U. S. national tournament finals for non-professional teams this year will open at Wichita, Kas., August 19.

Spink said MacArthur has okayed a trip by the San Francisco Seals to Tokyo this year for a post-season exhibitin series designed to pave the way for the non-professional series next year.

16 Resume Play in U.S. Public Links Meet

LOS ANGELES, July 14—(AP)—They're finally down to 16 in the U. S. public links golf tournament.

The 16 left are the toughened winners after four rounds of gruelling medal play. In this 24th annual classic.

Thus far it's been fatal to pick anyone who looks outstanding. He's been knocked off regularly in the next round. But if there is one today who outshines the other 15, it's Donald Shock of Dayton, O., who has more than lived up to his name.

His conquests include Harry Gurlet of Denver, who knocked off Tom Marlowe of Portland, who ousted last year's defending champion, Mike Ferentz of Long Beach, Calif.

Shock is a 25-year-old navy veteran, who went five under par to eliminate Gurley, then cooled down but still had enough stuff to subdue Dante Vicini of Ottawa, Ill., yesterday afternoon

Ken Towns of Burlingame, near San Francisco looks like the second best bet. He led a contingent of three Bay City players into the final 16 — the largest single sectional group.

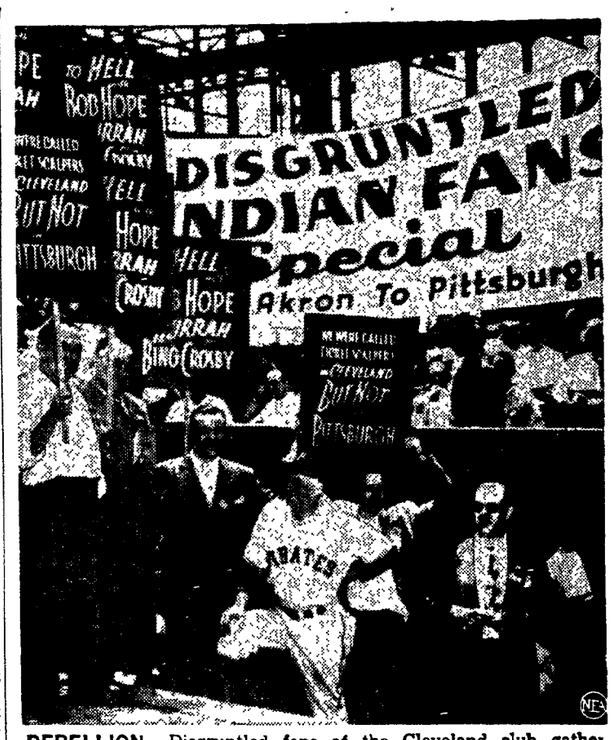
WASHINGTON — Beau Jack, 139½, New York, outpointed Eddie Giosa, 139½ Philadelphia, 10.

NEW YORK—Guillermo Gimenez, 136½, Buenos Aires, outpointed Phil Terranova, 135, New York, 8.



REBELLION—Disgruntled fans of the Cleveland club gather around Manager Bill Meyer in dugout at Forbes Field. The 200 men from Akron said their representative was turned down by the Indians' management last winter when he wanted to buy a block of season tickets for them They planned the train expedition to Pittsburgh to show their displeasure, gave Outfielder Dino Restelli a watch.

Work On Pooch To Stop Wheeze

CHILLICOTHE, Mo., July 14—(AP)—Old Pooch, a hunting dog, won't take to the field this fall unless veterinarians can cure the wheeze in his throat.

Pooch is a 12-year-old Irish setter, owned by L. F. Forbis of near Chillicothe. Forbis maintains that more birds have been shot over Pooch than any other dog in the state. Some 50 hunters have used the dog for a bag Forbis estimates at 4,000 quail.

The dog, which began retrieving when he was a pup three months old, developed a noise in his throat last season. Although veterinarians think Pooch might have heart trouble, the dog is as frisky as a five-year-old.

• Sport Roundup

By Hugh Fullerton, Jr.

NEW YORK, July 14—(AP)—It isn't surprising to hear Bill McKechnie come out with optimistic words about the Cleveland Indians, especially since they've climbed to second place. . . . Bill never was one to knock a club he worked for. . . . "We're hitting better now and we're really coming along," McKechnie says, and he really seems to mean it. . . . "Lou Boudreau is really hitting now and Doby has brought his average up a lot. Lou is playing a lot since Ken Keltner was hurt and Ray Boone is going to be a good shorstop. He's over his nervousness now. . . . It was our pitching that was carrying us for a while, but we are hitting now." . . . After that explanation, Bill took off to hit to the infielders with the further comment: "It's up to us old folks to make these youngsters hustle." and brother, he does.

Last Word

After the all-star baseball game in Brooklyn Tuesday, someone asked Charley Segar, National league publicitor: "Is this game supposed to be played for or by old-time ball players?" . . . Maybe the answer should have been that it was a benefit for the fresh error fund. . . . Anyway, the National leaguers wanted to win in the worst way; instead they lost in the worst way.

One-Minute Sports Page

Top price for the Ezzard Charles-Gus Lesnevich fight in New York will be $16.50. In Philly Robinson and Gavilan fought for a $12.50 top. . . . Maybe they're charging by the pound. . . . . Looks like the Red Sox figure they may need help in a hurry later in the season. They shifted pitcher Windy McCall to Louisville and persuaded Seattle to deliver Sammy White, the $75,000 rookie catcher, ahead of schedule so he could go to the same club. . . . Chick Evans won the Western Open golf championship in 1910 and hasn't missed one since, though he never repeated. . . . Chick says it was a tougher tournament than the U. S. Open or Amateur in those days.

The Cincinnati Reds' publicity dept. has dug up the fact that almost the entire 1883 team barely escaped death or serious injury in an elevator accident. All but one player was on the elevator that crashed. . . . Maybe that was a precedent for the Reds' annual plunge to the cellar.

LEXINGTON, Mo., July 14—(AP)—The Missouri Valley Veterans' tennis tournament will be held at Wentworth Military academy August 26-28. It will be the fourth such tournament here.

The singles crown last year was won by Ed Pearson of Kansas City. Wally Swank and Dave Freeborn of St. Joseph, have won the doubles championship in each of the previous tournaments.

Managers Comment on Their Teams

Cardinals Have Won 35 of Their Last 50 Games

By Joe Reichler (Associated Press Sports Writer)

The major league pennant races are going to wind up in two triple ties for first place.

At least that's the conclusion one draws after comment from Casey Stengel, Burt Shotton, Joe McCarthy, Connie Mack and other optimistic pilots.

The latest and most surprising skipper to look into the future through rose colored glasses is Joe McCarthy, the usually reticient leader of the Boston Red Sox.

Although weighted down in fourth place, eight and a half games off the pace at the halfway mark, McCarthy insisted that his club "from here in is the team to beat" in the American league race.

The Red Sox really are moving now. They've won seven in a row and are only a game and a half behind the third place Philadelphia Athletics.

Doesn't Share Opinion

Casey Stengel, who has done such an amazing job with the front running New York Yankees, does not share McCarthy's opinion.

"I had been inclined to think that the Red Sox would provide us with the toughest competition," Stengel said. "But when we knocked them off five times in a row recently, that finished them."

A week ago Stengel picked the Athletics as the only team that could stop his Yankees, who currently hold a five and a half game bulge over the second place Cleveland Indians.

Whereupon the Yankees knocked off the Mackmen in a solo contest and started them on their way to a five-game losing streak.

Connie Mack, Philadelphia's 86-year-old manager, is not discouraged, however.

Feels They Can Win

"Our boys, although in third place today, feel they still can win and I, as their manager, have to go along with them, naturally," he said. "Don't count us out. We still have a good chance.

Cleveland's Lou Boudreau did not talk much but grinned knowingly when asked whether he thought he would repeat.

"We're still the champions," he said.

Burt Shotton, grizzled Brooklyn manager, still insists, as he has all season long, that his Dodgers are going to win the National league flag. In this he has the backing of his boss, Branch Rickey. Currently, the Dodgers hold a half-game edge on the St. Louis Cardinals, who have won 35 of their last 50 games.

15 Percent Improved

Redbirds leader Eddie Dyer thinks his team is at least 15 percent improved with the addition of pitchers Max Lanier and Fred Martin and infielder Lou Klein.

Dyer and Billy Southworth, the manager of the third place Boston Braves, envisioned a stretch drive that would not produce a winner until the final day.

The Indians in the American, and Brooklyn and Boston in the National, face an opportunity to strengthen their claims, as each opens a 13-game home stand, starting tonight.

Brooklyn digs in at Ebbets field for a two-week stand.

The Cards will be on the road.

The Daily Washington Merry-Go-Round

by Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON, July 14 — Six state department stenographers were kept busy last week retyping and toning down the American White Paper on China. Hastily censored out were allegations labeling certain relatives of Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek as crooks.

Inside reason for these sudden changes was a long and continuing agrument between Secretary of State Acheson and Secretary of Defense Louis Johnson. For three months Johnson had been building a bonfire under the state department urging it to support Chiang Kai-Shek's Kuomintang.

Johnson is a personal friend and former attorney for Dr. H. H. Kung, brother-in-law of the generalissimo and reputedly one of the world's wealthiest men. At cabinet meetings, at super secret meetings of the National Security Council, Johnson constantly, continually needled Acheson.

For a long time there was no result. In fact, when Acheson returned from the Paris conference the other day he ordered his staff to work out a new blueprint for American-Chinese relations which was to be strongly anti-Chiang.

Acheson Outvoted

That blueprint was placed before the National Security Council last week. After a vigorous debate the vote went against Acheson—about 5 to 1. Those voting no were Johnson, the treasury department, and heads of the armed services. They favored continued support for Chiang Kai-Shek's regime no matter how graft ridden.

Swinging the decision against Acheson were two factors:

1. A statement by Mao Tse-Tung, leader of Red China, that he was a Moscow-loving Communist;

2. First indications that Chinese Reds planned rough treatment for American personnel, as later proved by the beating up of U. S. vice consul William Olive.

Instead of Acheson's proposed hands-off policy, the joint chiefs of staff recommended a ring of defenses around Red China. This ring will consist of the Japan-Formosa-Philippines island chain, plus Siam, Burma, India and one small part of South China where Chiang Kai-Shek will be defended to the last ditch.

General MacArthur has cabled his vigorous support of this general idea — which, incidentally, will cost a large and so far unestimated amount of money.

Pegler Probe

Young congressman Jack Kennedy of Boston was elected as a fighting, aggressive champion of labor. He is also the son of Joseph P. Kennedy, ex-ambassador to London, an admirer of columnist Westbrook Pegler.

And when Pegler called labor leaders "despots, criminals and Communists" at a congressional hearing, young Kennedy resigned from the sub-committee, after first protesting the manner in which Chairman Andrew Jacobs of Indianapolis was grilling Pegler.

"Why don't you let somebody else ask some questions?" asked Kennedy. "Representative Sims (S.C.) would like to ask a few."

"You've got your ideas and I've got mine," shot back Jacobs. "You'll get your turn after I get through."

Blazing mad, Kennedy left the committee rostrum and took a seat in the front row of spectators. After chatting briefly with an acquaintance, he went back on the rostrum and announced: "I'm getting off the subcommittee."

"That's okay with me," replied Jacobs.

New York Politics

Former Governor Herbert Lehman and New York boss Ed Flynn have been playing cat-and-mouse over who will run for Bob Wagner's Senate seat.

They held two secret huddles last week, during which Flynn tried to get Lehman to announce his candidacy for the Senate immediately. Flynn didn't say so but, if Lehman announced right away, the way would be clear for Flynn's friend, Brooklyn borough president John Cashmore, to be Democratic candidate for mayor of the world's largest city.

Lehman, however, knows he'll have a tough fight to win the Senate seat in November, so he wants a strong candidate on the ticket with him for mayor — and not John Cashmore. That is why he refused to announce until assured who his running mate will be.

Merry-Go-Round

Wonder what's become of Elizabeth Bentley, the buxom, confessed female spy who started all the fuss over Alger Hiss. During the Hiss trial she was strangely absent. Nothing left of her in Washington except a hotel bill for $500, for which conscientious Congressman Wood of the un-American Activities committee wants special authority from Congress in order to settle. . . . Chip Robert, ex-Democratic treasurer, and Sam Pryor, ex-Republican treasurer, got together the other day. They admitted that in the old days they sometimes compared notes. If one bigwig gave to the Republicans, Sam tipped off Chip and Chip collected for the Democrats — and vice versa. . . . Chip, incidentally, has a date to go leopard shooting in Ceylon September 15. He can leave Washington on a Thursday, spend the weekend shooting Indian leopards and get back by Monday. . . : Ex-Congresswoman Georgia Lusk of New Mexico will soon be appointed to the new war claims commission. . . Alert Congressman Furcolo of Massachusetts has urged President Truman to revamp future espionage trials. Truman has accepted Furcolo's suggestion.

Capital News Capsules

Senate Office Scramble —John Foster Dulles' arrival in the Senate has started a scramble for offices. Twenty-five Senators are planning to trade offices—just to make room for the new Senator from New York. What happened is that under seniority system, Dulles is low man on the totem pole and not entitled to the choice office vacated by Senator Wagner. Next in line is Senator O'Mahoney of Wyoming. But if he moves into Wagner's office, Senator Chavez of New Mexico is entitled to shift to O'Mahoney's office. And so on down the seniority ladder. Meanwhile, Senator Ives of New York is trying to talk colleagues out of this wholesale moving since Dulles will be in the Senate only a few months anyway.

Warning to Americans — Ambassador Leighton Stuart has warned all American diplomats in China to be on their best behavior in dealing with the Communists. Stuart believes the Communists' action in jailing and beating U. S. vice consul Olive in Shanghai is just the first step in a campaign to brand all American diplomats as spies.

Indian Massacre in Brazil

In the vast, uncharted reaches of the upper Amazon river basin, attacks by hostile Indians on hunting or exploring parties are still fairly common. But now, for the first time in years, a band of these fearless savages has laid siege to an established community, obliging the Brazilian government to rush in troops.

Details of this startling incident, which sounds like a tale out of U. S. frontier history, have just been received from the heart of the Amazon jungles. There may have been other attacks on more isolated villages; the ones reported were against settlements on the railroad, less than 200 miles from the northern coastal city of Belem.

Just before dawn on the morning of July 4, a band of some 500 Indians, stark naked and armed with bows and poisoned arrows, swept down without warning on workers' encampment along the narrow-gauge Tocantin railway, which struggles westward for 450 miles up the Amazon valley from Belem.

Killing and looting, the savages practically razed these camps, then raced on to converge upon the little town of Tucurui, which has a permanent population of about 700. Their first attempt to invade the village was beaten off by the mayor and the railway telegrapher with shotguns.

The Indians withdrew into the jungle but attacked again five hours later. This time they succeeded in penetrating the settlement, killed one man and a woman, and seized a quantity of arms.

Meanwhile ,the telegrapher had sent a message to Belem for help. The Para state government responded with a squad of armed police, and a few hours later federal zone headquarters sent two patrols of soldiers with machine guns.

The police reached Tucurui on the evening of July 5 and immediately set out in pursuit of the Indians. They found no trace of the attackers, dead or alive. Since then the soldiers have been assigned as permanent garrisons for Tucurui and tanother nearby village.

All railroad workers have since been armed and authorized to shoot at strange Indians on sight. Soldiers patrol the right of way with rifles at the ready. Nevertheless, two workers who went a few yards into the jungle to drink from a spring, on the morning of July 6, were found dead —shot by poisoned arrows.

Until about 1900 buttermilk was used in America chiefly for feeding pigs, according to the Encyclopedia Britannica.

The eastern timber wolf once ranged east throughout the Atlantic states as far south as Georgia.

Assessed Fine Over Improper License

Glenn C. Keown, of Kansas City, was fined $15 and costs before Judge W. M. Ilgenfritz in Magistrate Court, Wednesday He was picked up by the state patrol on June 5, 1949, for operating a 1935 Terraplane with improper license.

GOOD PUNISHMENT—When Michigan's Gov G. Mennen Williams mentioned he hadn't eaten any cherry pie during the National Cherry Festival in Traverse City, Mich., he was severely dealt with by a kangaroo court. Here, the stock-locked governor gets his due. State police Sgt. Sam McIntyre dishes out the punishment—a healthy portion of cherry pie.

CLIPPED ANGEL

By Clive Grierson Cornish

Copyright, 1949, NEA SERVICE, INC.

THE STORY: Mike McTaig, a mining engineer, has been hired by Cory Parnell, a beautiful young woman, to learn why the Dark Angel mine, inherited from her father, isn't producing as it did in the past. Mike finds samplings he takes from the mine and which are analyzed secretly, show higher ore content than is revealed by Riggs of the company assay office, but Cory is unwilling to fire any of her old employes. Mike then searches for a dummy mine that might dispose of the stolen ore. He finds the Argus mine suspicious, but there is no definite evidence against it. Then, while searching for a secret exit through which the ore has been taken, an attempt is made on Mike's life. Mike has a theory that while he's around the mine the thieves will lay low and ore production will suddenly rise. But when he obtains figures from the mill, he finds that they are the same as before. Uncle Jake Whinnaker, mill manager, who with the underground foreman, Archie Trask, are suspected, tells Mike, "I wish I knew why you didn't trust us."

• • •

XIV

THEY had an extra special dinner at the boarding house that night, for somebody's birthday—or so I'm told. I didn't eat any.

I sat in my room upstairs and waited for my mind to stop running around in a huge circle so I could think more or less coherently.

The thing that had me looping was that the impossible had happened.

I had personally sampled the ore from the working faces of the mine and that ore had gone into the mill bunkers on Wednesday. I had seen it there with Uncle Jake. The low-grade was there and the high-grade was there.

On a perfectly normal production schedule, by Thursday afternoon it had been milled, concentrated, dried and loaded into a car. With $15 ore concentrated ten to one, that car had to run $150 to the ton.

Instead, it ran less than $50. Why? That was the hundred dollar question.

I dug up the slip of paper with the assay figures that Effie had given me over the phone and stared at them. I knew the outfit that did my assay work in Seattle—they'd been in business 50 years and they didn't make mistakes.

I tried to remember Tuesday night. Supposing, on that last sampling at 2 o'clock in the morning I'd been so dog-tired that I'd taken too much from the paystreak, not once, but from all four levels? And supposing that for once in my life I had succeeded in tying a genuine reef knot?

• • •

MAYBE Riggs was okay. Maybe everybody was okay except me, and I was a nasty-minded, suspicious old crock of 37 years, overdue for retirement and prematurely soured on human nature.

And yet, less than three hours ago somebody had tried to kill me!

At that point I must have fallen asleep, even though I was sitting up and fully dressed. I dreamed I was chased along a tunnel by Uncle Jake and young Riggs and the tough character from the Argus Mines.

They were pitching chunks of ore at me and yelling, "Yah! So you don't trust us, eh?" The mouth of the tunnel appeared ahead and I made a desperate leap for safety—and landed flat in the mud below the chute at Argus Mines.

I fell off the chair when I made that leap, and even though I was partly awake I started to scramble out of th mud. That woke me up completely, but the dream was so vivid I could still almost feel the smooth soft surface of the mud under my hands.

And then I knew what was wrong with Argus Mines.

That mud had no right to be smooth! If the mine had been operating the week before, then the ground under the loading chute ought to have been crisscrossed back and forth with hundreds of truck tire marks.

It wasn't—because no ore had ever come out of the Argus Mine.

• • •

I WAS about to open the door and walk downstairs when it struck me it would be foolhardy to advertise my movements.

It was not more than an eight-foot drop from my window to the ground and I was confident nobody saw me. I kept in the shadow of a fence, by-passed several houses, and cut through somebody's cabbage patch to the main street.

I could see a sedan parked across the street and the silhouette of somebody sitting in the front seat. At 2 o'clock in the morning they weren't there to admire the view. I sneaked back to the lane and came out in the shadows a hundred yards farther down.

The overhead lights in the main tunnel were off but the electric clusters in the mill cast a faint glow near the portal.

Once inside I moved along the left-hand wall until I came to the first old drift. I couldn't use my headlamp because it showed too much light, so I used a pocket flash and shaded it with my hands.

I was looking for tracks, and not the kind made by animals, human or otherwise, but iron rails.

I found what I wanted, opposite a cross-cut about three hundred feet back from the portal. I found it when I brushed aside the muck from the tongue of a switch and tapped the steel rail gently with my hammer.

It wasn't like the others—covered with great leaves of rust that crumbled like corn flakes. Underneath the muck the metal was clean and sound—and that meant that it was used regularly.

Dim Hopes Of Crop Subsidies

Move To Extend Present System Of Price Support

By Francis J. Kelly

WASHINGTON, July 14—(AP)—The administration's hopes for a "trial run" of crop subsidies for farmers were chilled Wednesday when several influential Democratic House members joined Republicans in demanding a year's extension of the present farm price support system.

Rep. Gore (D-Tenn), Rep. Cox (D-Ga) and Chairman Sabath (D-Ill), of the rules committee were among the Democrats who assailed the administration's plan.

Gore, who usually is counted an administration supporter, introduced a substitute bill to continue the present farm law through 1950. Then the rules committee cleared the rival administration bill for House debate In doing so, however, it stipulated that the House be given an opportunity to vote on Gore's substitute, too.

The present law, which Gore wants retained, provides rigid support of major crops at 90 percent of parity Parity is a level calculated to give farmers a purchasing power which is fair in relation to the price of the things they buy.

Set Aside Alternate Plans

Adoption of Gore's plan would set aside two alternate farm plans: (1) The delayed-action Aiken law, passed by the Republican 80th Congress and scheduled to take effect next Jan. 1, and (2) the bill already approved by the House agriculture committee calling not only for high-level rigid price supports for major crops but also for a trial run on three crops of the administration - backed Brannan plan for production payments or subsidies from the treasury to farmers.

Announcing his proposal to keep the present law in effect another year, Gore said:

"Farmers are not for the Brannan plan. All farm organizations save the Farmers Union are opposed to it. x x x

"I think it is fuzzy, befuddled politics to think that we Democrats can make political hay by force-feeding the farmer something he doesn't want."

If the Brannan plan were adopted for hogs and pork, Gore said, it might cost $500,000,000 next year. But he said that added cost would be "only incidental."

LUCKIES ARE A FINER CIGARETTE!

Constant research at Lucky Strike's famous cigarette laboratory—America's largest and most completely equipped—is devoted to giving you a finer cigarette!

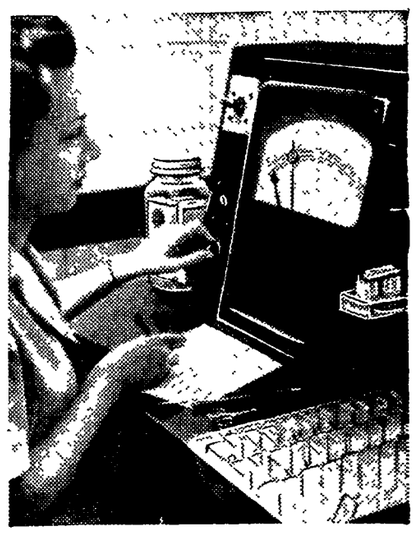
THERE is no finer cigarette in the world today than Lucky Strike. Here's why: Lucky Strike means fine tobacco. And every step in the making of Luckies—from before this fine tobacco is bought until the finished cigarette reaches you—comes under the watchful eye of the largest and most completely equipped cigarette research laboratory in America.

For many years, the famous Lucky Strike laboratory in Richmond, Virginia, has been a center of cigarette science and technology. In this remarkable building you can see a fascinating collection of scientific instruments — microscopes, spectrophotometers, balances, projectors, humidification chambers, and many other complicated and costly machines.

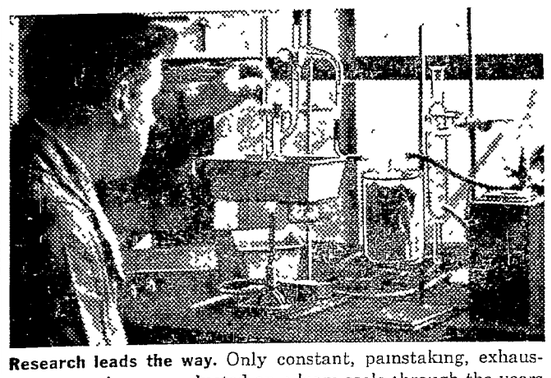
Working with this array of scientific equipment are more than 60 highly trained specialists—chemists, biologists, engineers, physicists. They work on tobacco, on finished cigarettes, on paper, foil, cellophane and even printing inks. For Lucky Strike scientists have for years delved into cigarette research on an extensive scale.

Today, because of the miracle of modern science, Lucky Strike is a finer cigarette.

Testing tobacco. Samples from every tobacco-growing area are analyzed before and after purchase These extensive scientific analyses, along with the expert judgment of Lucky Strike buyers, assure you that the tobacco in Luckies is fine, light and mild. No wonder Luckies are a finer cigarette.



Luckies stay fresh. After Lucky Strike cigarettes have been packaged, they must be tightly sealed to remain fresh Here you see the cellophane seal being tested for air-tightness Such instruments are in constant use at every plant



Research leads the way. Only constant, painstaking, exhaustive research—as conducted on a large scale through the years by The American Tobacco Company—could produce the scientific knowledge that results in the quality of Luckies.

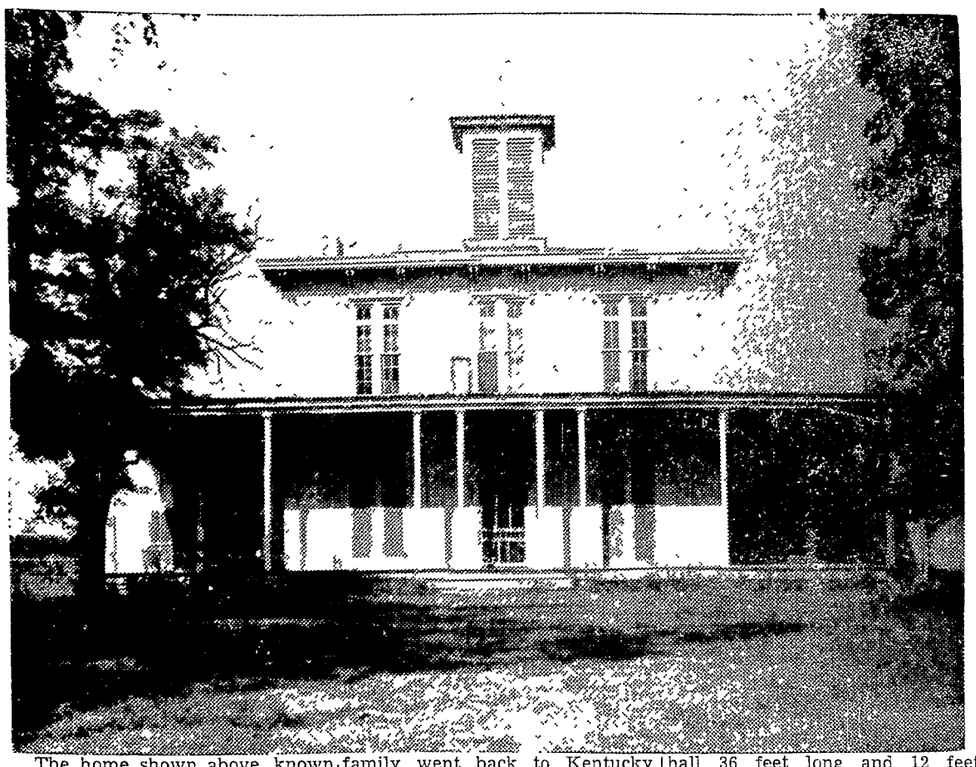
Steamboat House Has Been Razed



The home shown above, known as the Steamboat House that was located three miles east of Hughesville, has been torn down. The old home was one of Pettis county's oldest homes and landmarks, it being built in 1859 by a family from Kentucky named Hughes. It was patterned after the steamboats then popular on the Missouri and Mississippi rivers. Mrs. Hughes, who was a woman of considerable wealth, had the home built but after becoming homesick and discontent she and the rest of the Hughes family went back to Kentucky The home was sold to a Jones family and they in turn sold it to Das McClure, who until the home was torn down, resided there with his wife and two children Mary Kay and Jack.

The white pine lumber used in the construction of the house was hauled by ox team to its site from Boonville after it was floated down the river to that point.

The house had 14 foot ceilings and a front door that was approximately 12½ feet high. This front door opened into a giant hall 36 feet long and 12 feet wide The house contained 16 rooms with a large double dining room with large double doors, which were seldom opened because of their size. There are many legends about this old structure.

On the cupola atop the house, Civil War soldiers carved their names as they passed through this section of the country.

The new home of the McClures will be a modern ranch styled house.

Little Bounce In Economy Can be Seen

Some Things That Have Dropped Are Now on Rebound

By Sam Dawson

NEW YORK, July 14 — (AP) — There's still a lot of bounce in our economy. Today's news shows a number of things that have dropped, in price and output, and are now on the rebound. It's only a little bounce back so far, but it's pleasant reading.

Demand has picked up for copper and lead, two items that dropped fast and far since March And prices are firming on the two important metals.

Wheat prices are firmer—pleasant news for farmers, unless they happen to be the ones whose crops were injured by disease and bad weather in June. It was this cut in the expected supply that strengthened prices.

Rayon suits have been selling well this summer and some manufacturers report they have sold out their considerable supply. Rayon prices have firmed.

Reached Low Point

American Radiator & Standard Sanitary Corp. says it has reached the low point in sales and earnings, and looks for improvement from now on, and expects to reopen some of its idle plants before Christmas.

The Ansco division of General Aniline & Film Corp. has put its photographic paper plant back on a six-day week. It had been on a four-day schedule but demand from the photo finishing dealers has jumped and Ansco has "found it necessary to increase our output."

Some woolen mills found demand for certain types of fabrics used by the women's wear trade so good that mills are booked solid into September and prices have gone up a little.

The New England purchasing Agents association says 18 per cent of its 106 reporting firms found business better in many for June.

These may be little things, but they show how things that go down can go back up as conditions straighten out.

Porcupines, which are merely interesting animals to summer tourists and campers, are serious money-costing pests to foresters in winter. They gnaw bark from trees, frequently causing death by complete girdling.

Old Fashioned Blueberry Cobbler

Ingredients: 1 pint basket large firm cultivated blueberries, 1 cup sugar, ½ teaspoon lemon juice, ¼ teaspoon cinnamon, 1 cup sifted all-purpose flour, 1 teaspoon double-acting baking powder, ¼ teaspoon salt, 1 egg, 2 tablespoons butter or margarine, ¼ cup milk, ½ teaspoon vanilla.

Method: Put blueberries in colander or large strainer; pick over. Wash under cold running water, shake gently and allow to stand a few minutes to drain. Turn onto a tea towel and pat dry. Put blueberries in the bottom of a greased 8x8x2-inch cake pan. Sprinkle with ½ cup of the sugar, the lemon juice, and the cinnamon and mix carefully so berries will be coated with the sugar; set aside. Mix and sift the flour, baking powder, salt, and remaining ½ cup sugar. Beat egg with a rotary or electric mixer until it begins to get pale and thick. Melt butter or margarine and beat with egg, milk and vanilla enough to combine; add dry ingredients and mix well. Put spoonfuls of the batter over blueberries at intervals and spread carefully over entire surface with a spatual in a thin layer. Bake in a moderate (350 degree F.) oven for 45 minutes. Serve with thin cream. Makes 6 servings.

Clean Up and Slim Down

By Alicia Hart
NEA Staff Writer

Turn the puttering that you do in the back yard or garden or terrace into a game of figure-improvement. You can slim down, get a tan and knock off your "green-thumb" chores all at the same time.

This three-way ticket to a beautiful figure with a handsome you use your body with supple tan thrown in is only good if know-how while you work.

Vines to train? Exaggerate your reach and give arm muscles a good overhead tug. This is a chest-firming exercise and the overhead stretch, tall and tense one moment, relaxed all-of-aheap the next, will also build up a taut, muscular girdle. Cutting tall shrubbery or pruning dead boughs from fruit trees will give arms, chest and waist the same kind of overhead stretch.

A quick cleanup of the back yard can mean as many as two-dozen arm-stretching exercises as you sweep the rake forward elbows stiff, and haul it back with elbows bent. The forward and back movement will also help to firm up flabby flesh on upper arms.

Deep-knee bends you'll take to gather up the collected pile of leaves and trash for burning will be as good as supervised calisthenics if you slide down slowly, using your spine as axis, back straight — head held high.

Don't let the men in the family reap all of the benefits from mowing the lawn. Latch on to this exercise for strengthening your own back muscles, whittling down your own waistline. The push of the mower will be more rewarding if you'll keep the bend out of your back, keep elbows at chest level.

When freeing the mower from grass snags or when weeding the garden, stoop over from the waist with straight knees; this is a classic waist reducing exercise. It can be too strenuous! There is another way weeds and a spreading hipline can be reduced at the same time. Smooth a mat out alongside your flower bed. Sit flat with both feet outstretched but together. Now weed and work yourself down the row in a sit-down walk, which is achieved by pushing one hip, arm and heel at the same time. Keep your body tight to the mat and the back of your hips really bumping.

Final tidying up around the garden and terrace can be body firming, too, if occasionally you stoop over in a simulated back-bend for books, papers and yarn baskets left lying around. This kind of muscular tug helps to tighten a slack tummy.

NEEDLE IN HIS HEART—Five-month-old Dickie Morse had been breathing too heavily for either his or his parents' comfort. They brought him to a Los Angeles hospital for a check-up. An X-ray, right, showed Dickie had a half-inch sliver of needle in his heart. A surgeon at the hospital performed the delicate operation, removing the piece of steel from the baby's heart muscle. Doctors say Dickie probably rolled over on a needle carelessly left in his crib. A piece stuck in him and in a few days worked itself to his heart. He's okay now, and all set to go home to San Diego.

Gymnasts and Clowns — Lend Style Gear

PARIS—(NEA)—Bathing suit fashions owe their inspiration to clowns' costumes, sarongs and exercise suits.

An "exercise suit" (left) glorified by Pierre Balmain, makes a sensation of a hip-length fringed sweater, shorts, socks and cap of red and white striped jersey.

Harlequin's gay clown suit inspired the bold cotton print which Jean Desses uses to make a swim suit and matching sun shade (above) topped by a white pique beach coat.

A full tunic-styled skirt of red and white cotton print (right) wraps sarong-fashion around a reverse-color Desses-designed swim suit.—By Rosette Hargrove, NEA Staff Correspondent.

No Arguments

The American Indian bridegroom showed respect for his mother-in-law by never meeting or speaking with her. This arrangement was believed to prevent quarrels.

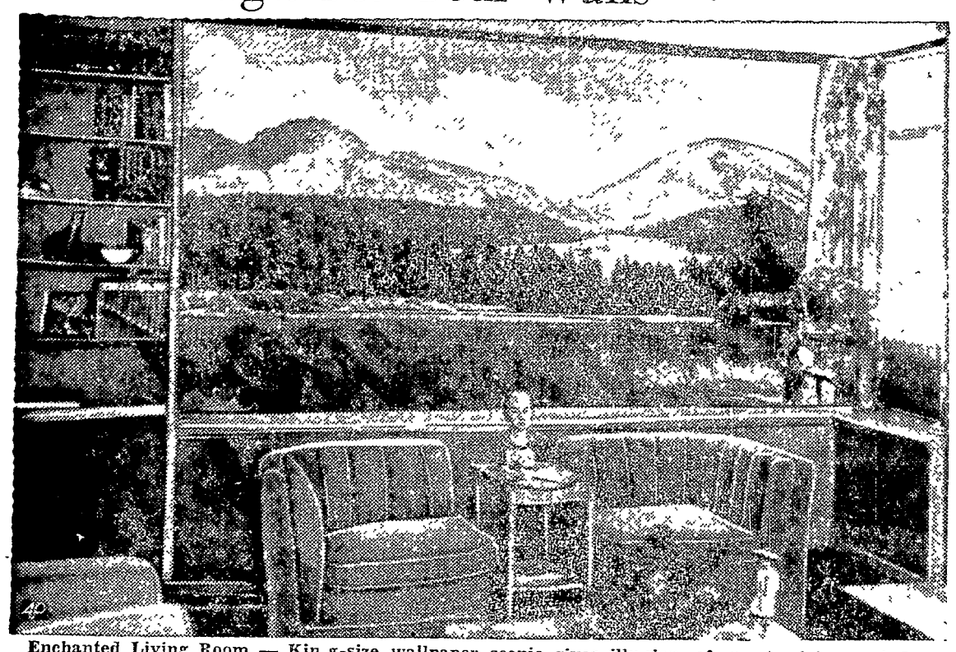
Mural Magic for Your Walls



Enchanted Living Room — King-size wallpaper scenic gives illusion of great picture window overlooking placid mountain lake. Enlargements are achieved by new process which produces 6 feet, 6 inches by 15 feet black-and-white or sepia toned murals. A California firm produces them for less than $30.

By Jack Quigg
AP Newsfeatures

LOS ANGELES—If you would like to change a wall in your home into a picturesque seascape or a view of a placid mountain lake, now is your chance. A new process by which ordinary scenic photos are reproduced — king size — on wallpaper permits you to gaze at your favorite scenic spot to your heart's content.

A California firm recently began producing such enlargements by a special printing process. In place on a wall, each mural measures 6 ft, 6 in. by 15 feet. Its six 40 by 60 inch component panels are applied with paste like any wallpaper. By using only the center panels, the size of the picture may be reduced to fit almost any wall.

The murals, which are washable, are manufactured in black and white or sepia tones. Treated so as to appear three dimensional, they have the same effect as an added window — pushing the walls back and enlarging the room.

Thus far, the manufacturers have made plates for three murals, a Carmel, Calif., seascape and shots of Reflection lake in Mt. Lassen National Park and Jackson lake in the Grand Tetons.

They plan eventually to have a library of several hundred prints.

Peter C. Goldsmith, a Los Angeles advertising man, began research on printing processes a year ago. He settled on a method by which a standard four by five inch photographic negative is enlarged to 120 square feet. His first step is to make a 20 by 30 inch print. This is retouched, photographed and reproduced on a 40 by 60 printing plate. Six of these make a complete mural.

Corner Druggist Built a Fortune on Your Sunburn

By Rene J. Cappon

BALTIMORE, Md., July 9—(AP)—A one-time corner druggist turned a vanishing cream experiment in a coffee pot into $41,000,000 in sales, with an assist from sunburn.

Dr. George Avery Bunting started his business venture at a time when most men think of easing up. He now is a spry 79.

He figures his son, George Lloyd Bunting, can run Noxzema Chemical Co., for the next 35 years. He promoted him to the presidency from his post as vice president and general manager. The elder Bunting took a position as chairman of the Board of Directors as a climax to his own 35 years of work in the company.

The changes went into effect at the recent dedication of a new plant building. The ceremonies marked the 35th anniversary of the discovery of noxz-ema, the medicated skin preparation the firm markets (to the tune of some $41,600,000 in net sales since its founding).

Success Lauded

Distinguished speakers laded Bunting's success story as a symbol to the vitality of free enterprise.

Dr. Bunting, a pharmacist, was nearly 50 and not far from broke when he launched his business in a coffee pot in the backroom laboratory of his drug store.

He had a tough time persuading friends to back the venture—but those who did still praise the day they shelled out.

For if you had put $1,000 into the Noxzema company as recently as 1923, and held the ten shares of stock, the sum would have purchased, your holding now would be worth $17,600. And in the intervening 17 years you'd have pocketed $18,990 in cash dividends.

You're not doing badly if you can parlay $1,000 into $36,590 by investment in a business that's still expanding.

Dr. Bunting came to Baltimore from his native Bishopville, Md., some 40 years ago, after deciding he'd never get rich as a school teacher.

Experimented With Creams

After he bought the drug store he had clerked in (wage: $4 weekly), it seemed he'd hardly get rich as a druggist, either. But he kept his eyes on the manufacturing end of the business and began experimenting with vanishing creams.

His first manufacturing project never got underway. Dr. Bunting had bought the formula for a liquid dental preparation. Then the first toothpastes hit the market. Demand for liquid preparations approached zero.

By 1914, Dr. Bunting had veered on a new tack, looking for a greaseless sunburn cream. He mixed oil of cloves and the then newly-popular vanishing creams.

"I remember my mother using oil of cloves for toothaches, and I figured if I could anesthetize the sunburned never endings long enough, nature would come along and I would get the credit," Dr. Bunting recalls.

Sold Moderate Quantities

He sold moderate quantities of the stuff, which he called "Bunting's Sunburn Cream" until a customer reported to him the concoction had cured his eczema—"knocked it right out."

Noxzema was born that day.

Dr. Bunting induced several physicians to try it. Three years later, in 1917, he formed the corporation. And as late as 1921, the firm's staff consisted of three—the founder, Mrs. E. C. Buck, and Raymond B. Yingling.

They are still with Noxzema company, and obviously better than well-to-do. Mrs. Buck, for many years secretary-treasurer, now is secretary and a director. Yingling is vice president and sales manager. He also is a director.

Got Over the Hump

Dr. Bunting's presidential salary up to about 1925 was $50 a week. Though the figure is not made public, he's been doing consideraly better than that in more recent years.

By 1925, the company got over the hump. Sales that year, which marked the dividing line, ran to $100,000. By 1939, the annual gross was about $1,400,000, and passed the $4,000,000 mark in 1947. Last year's gross was $4,300,000 and net profit, after taxes, $449,000.

Meantime as the erstwhile sunburn remedy expanded in sales, it also expanded in use. During the last war, the services used Noxzema for tired feet, insect bites, jungle skin, itching scalps and shaving.
